

Happy New Year

from the Moore family. Here is a recap of 2018.

Emmerie 2017 was a year of hard growth, but 2018 has been a year of exciting change. God saw it fit to refine before He began to show us His plans for moving forward. As always, He was faithful to provide all that we needed, physically, emotionally, and spiritually. Our year has been really full of fun things. We either traveled or hosted guest in our home 10 months out of this year. We also welcomed Oakland into our family. After all our spring and summer travels it has been nice to just be home. To celebrate the holidays in our home and start some family traditions now that our kids are getting old enough to enjoy them. God has surrounded us with faithful and encouraging friends and family that have supported us through hard times and rejoiced with us in victories. He is so generous!

Mercy just celebrated her birthday in November. She turned 3 and has decided everyone in our family is also 3.

She is strong willed and will never back down from what she thinks is right. She cares deeply for her baby brother, horses, and the color pink. Both of the girls are practicing their ballet and singing, oh, so loud singing.

Camille turned 3 last April and got to spend the day with Oma and Opa.

The plan is to have another surgery in just over a year to fix the rest of her mouth. She is doing so well in speech therapy and continues to overcome.

Camille is passionate and caring. Her passion pours out in laughter, tears, and anger. We celebrated this year her one-year anniversary of adoption.

Oakland Matthew was born April 10, 2018.

Now, Oakland is almost done with his helmet. He has had it since August and his flat spot is rounding out beautifully.

He is crawling. He says "b's." Overall the kid is huge, which will serve him well to protect himself from his sister's reckless love.

Matthew 2018 was refreshing. God has started to put some pieces together at our church and with friends.

Last summer we enjoyed a break from the hot desert and went to Cedar Mountain for our church camp and enjoyed the beauty of Utah's mountains. With thanks to my friend, Joe's marriage allowed our family to make the trip to Kansas City. While we were there, we went to the Omaha Zoo, my childhood favorite.

Thank you church family for your continued generosity and sacrifice!
Looking forward to your group!
