A MESSAGE FROM PASTOR SANDY KESSINGER

A Change in Our Pastoral Staff

Before I speak to the main topic of this article, I would like to say a few words about our stained glass windows. It has definitely been a work in progress, and it required an enormous amount of time and patience on the part of everyone involved. In July of 2014 I took the initial phone call from Christina M. Kutschenreuter, the donor of the windows and the mosaic dove. In a span of almost four years a committee was formed that went about the task of contracting a company to do the work, ideas were developed on what the windows should look like and (once the designs were finalized) there was frequent contact with the artist and those in charge of our project to ensure the work was moving forward.

It took longer than we anticipated but the end result will last a life-time. The windows are exquisite and stunning. They already seem a natural part of our worship space. It has been a joy to look at all the little details that are in each window. And because of the hard work and incredible dedication of those who took this task on, we have been blessed with a generous gift that will touch the lives of everyone who enters our worship space. In celebration of this gift we are honoring the donor and dedicating the windows on ...

Pentecost Sunday
May 20, 2018
11:00 am Service

Pentecost Sunday is the day that we celebrate the Holy Spirit swirling in our midst. At the same service we will confirm three of our young people who have been instructed in the basics of our tradition and who are ready to make public affirmation of their faith. It will be another glorious day when we offer our praise and thanksgiving to God!

And the work of the Holy Spirit continues as I share with you that a change is upon us at Redeemer in terms of our pastoral staff. When you read the article by Deacon Erin you will note that she has been in a period of discernment as she seeks to further define the work that God has called her to do. Her time of prayer and her experiences at our church have led her to start the process necessary to become an ordained minister of Word and Sacrament. She has made the appropriate contacts with the Candidacy Committee, Synod and the ELCA and can now proceed officially with her internship. After her internship and the completion of some coursework she will seek final approval for ordination.

So what is the plan? Deacon Erin will enter internship here at Redeemer as of May 1. I will become her internship supervisor and we will form an Internship Committee to support her during this time. The committee and I will be responsible for submitting written reports to the Candidacy Committee throughout her internship. In my work with Deacon Erin, I will offer her different opportunities to experience the full scope of pastoral duties.

The internship will take us to the end of this calendar year when Deacon Erin will go before the Candidacy Committee for final approval. Based on that time frame we will hold a special congregational meeting in February of 2019 to issue a new call to Deacon Erin. If that call is passed by two-thirds of our voting members present then we will issue a call to Deacon Erin to become our Associate Pastor.

Does anything change between now and the end of the year? Deacon Erin will continue her role with us as she does the required work and fulfills the necessary steps for ordination. The biggest difference that you will see is that she will start to wear the clerical collar. Interns are encouraged to wear the clerical collar as they grow into their pastoral identity. We will continue to call her Deacon Erin until the time of her ordination. She will continue to wear the stoles she currently wears as a deacon. Again, that will change at the time of her ordination.

How will the change from deacon to pastor affect Redeemer? Ever since we entered into the process of seeking an additional pastoral staff member, we were set on finding the right person to be with us rather than selecting someone with the right title. At the time that we called Deacon Erin there were many advantages to calling a pastor but by the power of the Holy Spirit, we discovered that Deacon Erin had the gifts we were looking for to complement our ministry here. So the change from deacon to pastor will be a good and positive change and it will allow the two of us to fully share the pastoral responsibilities at Redeemer. The church will benefit from both of us being available to you and to our community.

Will this change her hours and compensation package? We currently honor the number of hours that Deacon Erin spends with us and we do not expect that to change at this time. Once ordained her compensation package will reflect that of a pastor so some adjustments will be made at the time of her call (if that vote passes). All the necessary details pertaining to the call will be made known to the members prior to a vote.

Deacon Erin has made a very positive impact on our ministry and we have made a positive impact on her. As we walk with her through this next phase of her life journey, we do so with eagerness and joy! The work of the Holy Spirit is very much alive at Redeemer!

Yours in Christ –
Pastor Sandy Kessinger

April 9, 2018 Meeting of Congregation Council

Council members present: Matthew Kratz (President), Laura Duval (Vice President), Dean Graves (Treasurer), Mitch Brown, Karen Detweiler, Deanna Heier, Stephanie Hunter, Gordon Jones, Pastor Sandy Kessinger, Joseph Kratz (Youth Representative), Steve Lancaster, Florence Ofili-Toviho, Roberta Pittman, and Rob Wenk.

Opening

Matthew Kratz called the meeting to order at 7:30 p.m.

Pastor Kessinger led the Opening Devotions using two of the contemporary Stations of the Cross texts used in the Easter Saturday Vigil Walk.

Adoption of Agenda

The agenda was adopted as presented.

Pastor's Report

Pastor Kessinger reported that over 50 people participated in the New Members dinner.

Stained glass windows should be installed starting next week. Pastor shared a laminated sheet that describes the windows. Copies of the sheet will be placed in the pews.

Approval of Minutes

The minutes from the March 12, 2018 Council meeting were approved unanimously.

Treasurer's Report

Dean Graves shared the financial update. Easter contributions were about average. We continue to receive contributions toward debt reduction. New software being implemented to better track receipts and expenditures.

Council Discussion

- Discussed concerns around outside groups leaving building clean after use. This includes the state of restrooms and kitchen. There are also some concerns about children running unsupervised through the facility. Carol and/or Bill Parks have followed up with representatives of groups.
- Deanna Heier noted that we could apply the schools' policy that any group using the building must have a facilities "director" assigned. This person would be responsible for proper use of the facilities by the group as well as ensuring the condition of the facilities at the end of the event. We could also consider having a cleaning service fee charged if the facility was left in unsuitable condition.
- Ann Lawrence is taking responsibility for organizing the use of the kitchen. It was suggested that an orientation to our kitchen might help members (including youth) to learn where things are, how to operate equipment, and how to clean up.
- Discussed proposed changes to Virginia licensing for childcare centers. Exempted services currently include child-minding services like Sunday morning nursery, Sunday School, and Vacation Bible School. The preschool and after school program voluntarily met almost all criteria for licensure (e.g., CPR certification). Proposed legislation may remove exemptions and require full childcare licensing. Full licensure would require additional staff training (e.g., medication administration) and expenses. Council will monitor the situation.
- Laura Duval noted that the Commonwealth of Virginia is now requiring fingerprinting and increased background checks on staff. This summer we will need to recontact adult volunteers to ensure they are current on Child Protection Policy requirements.
- Reviewed draft text for the plaque for the stained glass windows recognizing the donation. Pastor has reached out to the family to coordinate the text and invitation to the dedication scheduled for May 20.

Committee Liaison Reports

- New Connections. Florence Ofili-Toviho provided an update. A task force is being developed to implement the New Connections program. Laura Duval moved acceptance of the campaign commitment as described in Pastor Kessinger's report. Rob Wenk seconded. The motion passed unanimously.
- Laura Duval participated in the Afterschool program board meeting. Enrollment is stable. Fairfax County Public Schools' SACC wait lists are being reduced and might affect enrollment.
- Council discussed the need for an overall safety plan for the entire church. The plan might include numbering doors, establishing a signal word from the church office, and identifying touchpoints who monitor the facility. Laura recommended that the preschool participate in this discussion.
- Preschool and afterschool have procedures and drills. We already have locks, alarms, and other protective measures. Council will look for volunteers to support this effort.
- Social Concerns discussed that the Economic Equality Caucus will meet at Redeemer on May 23. We have been asked to provide a speaker. Any candidate who is running in the 10th District could come and speak to the community. SHARE has also been invited.
- Falls Church McLean Children's Center is celebrating its 50th anniversary. Redeemer was one of the founding sponsors and will participate in anniversary activities.
- We are moving forward in preparing to implement the Good Neighbor program through Lutheran Social Services (LSS). Stephanie Hunter leading the effort.

Closing

Council's next meeting date is May 14, 2018. The next Executive Committee meeting will be held May 4, 2018.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:30pm with The Lord's Prayer.

The Process of Discernment

Deacon Erin Swenson-Reinhold

One of my favorite things is talking with people about how God is working in their lives and what they are discerning God is calling them to do. I marvel how God surprises and empowers us to embark on paths and journeys that we least expect. Inevitably, whenever I engage in one of these conversations, we end up talking about the process of discernment. The word ‘discernment’ comes from the Latin word which means ‘to sift apart’. When we discern, we engage the process of sorting through different possibilities attempting to discover the path that is most life-giving. No matter the topic, the discernment process involves curiosity to and an openness to God’s presence in our lives.

Over the last two years, I have engaged an intentional vocational discernment process trying to be open, curious, and attuned to what God is doing in my life and in the lives of those around me. Redeemer has played a critical role in providing me space to ask questions, explore my call, and ‘try on’ what it means to be a called church worker. Through prayer and conversation, I have discerned that God is asking me to take a step into a different vocational call – that of a pastor. I have realized that while I was initially called to Word and Service ministry, this call has evolved and now incorporates a call to preach the word and administer the sacraments of Holy Communion and Baptism.

Through the rest of this year, Redeemer will play an important role in my formation as we partner together in a formal internship process that will ultimately lead to my ordination. I will take on some new tasks and engage ministry areas that I did not previously participate to be formed into this new pastoral role. Pastor Sandy and I will continue to keep you informed of the process, and I ask that you keep all of this in your prayers as we journey together through the next steps of my formal discernment process.

If you have further questions, please feel free to contact me. I look forward to this next step of our lives together and the ways God continues to work through our faith community.

Peace and Blessings,

Deacon Erin

Transforming Our World: 2030 Sustainable Development Goals as a Spiritual Calling

A single session workshop and overview of the SDGs and their spiritual relevance.

The 2016 Assembly of the Metropolitan Washington DC Synod of the ELCA voted to recommend that congregations study the United Nations Sustainable Development 2015-2030 Goals and report their progress to the Synod office. The UN SDGs can be an entry point for understanding the values, hopes, and priorities of the 193 nations that voted to support the goals, thus representing a spiritual calling. Faith communities can build these into programs for social justice and dignity as they stimulate spiritual growth.

The Global Goals:

- No more Poverty
- No more Hunger
- Good Health, Well Being
- Quality Education for All
- Gender Equality and Empowerment
- Clean Water and Sanitation
- Affordable and Cleaner Energy
- Decent Work and Economic Growth
- Innovation, Industry, and Infrastructure
- Reduced Inequalities
- Sustainable Cities and Communities

Falls Church - McLean Children's Center

Providing a high-quality, early childhood education for all children, regardless of their family's resources.

Falls Church-McLean Children's Center Honors Founders at 50th Anniversary Celebration

This past month I attended a breakfast at the Falls Church-McLean Children's Center in honor of Redeemer and the 19 other faith based organizations who came together 50 years ago in response to a need for childcare for working families.

How did it all begin?

In the spring of 1967 after reading an article by Sid Ross in Parade magazine titled "Who Takes Care of Your Children?" which highlighted a growing concern about young children being left at home and poor childcare conditions. A group of residents here in McLean took a stand to do something to address the problem.

A community meeting later that year drew members of 16 religious organizations of various denominations, including Redeemer, and eventually more than 20 faith groups helped bring the center to life.

On Oct. 10, 1968, the center began with 15 children in the basement of Chesterbrook Presbyterian Church and now serves more than 70 children within the building of Lemon Road Elementary.

What makes the Center so special?

About 50 percent of the students come from low-income families and receive tuition assistance from Fairfax County, using a sliding scale based on ability to pay.

The center assesses students to see if they need additional services with the goal of ensuring every child is ready for kindergarten. Each classroom has English- and Spanish-speaking teachers. Approximately 35 percent of the center's students are Hispanic.

Former Director Margery Sher attributed the organization's longevity and success to a three-ingredient "secret sauce":

- caring professional staff and volunteers;
- strength in diversity, whether it be race, culture, income or differing ability; and
- the successful continual pursuit of excellence.

Sher shared 2 really interesting stats to think about:

- About 85% of brain development occurs in the first 5 years of a child's life. This boils down to just 1,825 days and she said and I quote "There's not a day to lose to give children opportunities to stimulate their curiosity . . . and teach them how to be a kind friend."
- And the second was a reminder that these services and the staff it takes to support the center does not come cheap. Each year they must raise about $250,000 in operating expenses but the reward and investment is much greater. For every $1 spent to educate preschoolers from low-income families, $17 is returned to our community.

Redeemer's role and continued support

Redeemer has supported the center since its founding in many ways, including a Redeemer member serving as Treasurer for the Center's Board for 20 years and who is credited with helping the Center keep its doors open in some difficult times.

Today we continue to support the center financially and through our good works projects on the Day of Service each year. They are always looking for volunteers to just come in and read to the students or prepare snacks if interested.

At the breakfast we presented the Center with a $2500 pledge from Redeemer's Social Concerns budget for which they were very grateful and called us out as continued supporters of the center through the years.

The Center presented Redeemer with a very nice plaque and a book they wrote about the founding and history of the Center which lives now in our Church library and you can purchase online on Amazon ("A Beacon of Light: The Falls Church-McLean Children's Center Story: How a Small Band of Caring People Generated a Successful Start for Thousands of Children by Margery Leveen Sher)

This is just one example of how Redeemer has been a light in the community for so many years in identifying and addressing social concerns needs in our community here and abroad.

Here is Your April Ham Report.

On April 5, Rick Stewart delivered 8 boxes of ham weighing approximately 280 pounds to Martha's Table (4) and ThriveDC (4) from the Fairfax and Falls Church HoneyBaked Ham stores.

On April 6, Ralph Dutrow delivered 16 boxes of ham weighing approximately 560 pounds to the DC Central Kitchen from the Reston store.

On April 12, Roberta Pittman delivered 4 boxes of ham and 1 box of turkey weighing approximately 145 pounds to the DC Central Kitchen from the Falls Church and Fairfax stores.

So for the month of April, we delivered approximately 1,440 pounds of ham. Another great month! Our delivery breakdown was as follows: DC Central Kitchen 845 pounds; Martha's Table 455 pounds and ThriveDC 140 pounds. So our annual total comes to 5,970 pounds of ham. Our annual breakdown totals are: DC Central Kitchen 4,220 pounds; Martha's Table 1,225; ThriveDC 280 pounds and CFLS 245 pounds.

If anyone is interested in joining our crew of ham runners, please contact Rick Stewart at:

Parents Night Out!

Last Friday, we had an amazing time at Parents Night Out. We were able to serve about forty kids, many Redeemer families, and several families from the community. We had five adult volunteers and six high-school helpers, who helped to not only supervise the kids, but also interact with them through fellowship, games, and crafts. We had cheese and pepperoni pizza for dinner and ice cream sandwiches for dessert. The kids had a fun and exhausting time in the gym for they played basketball, gymnastics (on our play mats), jumped and flipped on the moon bounce, as well as created their own games through free play. The kids had the option (which most of them took advantage of) to watch the 1999 rendition of The Jungle Book movie. Many of the kids also took the time out of their night to participate in a beautiful flower craft for Mother's Day, which they were able to take home.

Additionally, we were also able to raise $340 to go toward Redeemer's youth trips and camps.

Finally, I would like to say thank you to all who participated and served!

Blessings,

Marlon Yearwood
