A MESSAGE FROM PASTOR SANDY KESSINGER

Redeemer Lutheran Church has a council that meets monthly to fulfill its responsibility to give general oversight to the life and activities of our congregation. In February we hold our annual meeting to review council actions, to hear reports from key leaders, to hold elections, to adopt the budget and other important items, and to share our vision for the future.

The activities of our synod parallel what we do at the congregational level. The Metropolitan Washington, D.C. Synod has a Synod Council that meets six to eight times a year. Those elected to the council have general oversight to the life and activities of the synod. In June we hold our annual Synod Assembly to review council actions, to hear reports from the synod staff and other leaders representing the wider church body, to hold elections, and to adopt the mission spending plan. We also discuss and vote on any resolutions that come before the assembly. And throughout our time together the vision for the future is shared.

The 2018 Synod Assembly took place on Saturday, June 16, at Lord of Life Lutheran Church in Fairfax, Virginia. At our annual meeting in February we elected the following members to attend: Harold Hofstad, Chris and Stephanie Hunter, Max Miller, Florence Ofili-Toviho, and Robin Taylor. Deacon Erin and I attend as ELCA rostered leaders.

Here are some highlights from the assembly:

Our opening worship was lively and engaging and incorporated different cultural experiences.

We heard reports from Bishop Richard Graham and the assistants to the bishop.

A representative from the ELCA, Christina Skelton, came and spoke to us.

Christina Skelton is the Executive Director for Mission Advancement.

We voted to elect members to the Synod Council (and I was reelected to a second term).

We voted to elect voting members to the 2019 Churchwide Assembly.

We voted to adopt the 2019 Mission Spending Plan (equivalent to our budget).

And we voted to approve the 2019 Compensation Guidelines for Rostered Leaders.

Resolutions were received from voting members to the assembly (or the resolutions came from congregation councils, tables, teams, conferences, and/or affiliated agencies and institutions). Here are the two main items that were discussed and approved:

- 1) Each congregation will be asked to adopt a Child Protection Policy before the 2019 Synod Assembly and complete all screening and training of appropriate persons.
- 2) The assembly directed Bishop Graham to communicate to elected officials in Congress and the White House our opposition to the State of Israel's failure to guarantee basic due process rights for children in the Israeli military court system in accordance with the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child. The assembly further directed Bishop Graham to ask our elected officials to ensure that the United States fully enforces its own established law so that funds do not support ill-treatment of Palestinian children in violation of international law. Congregations are encouraged to provide study opportunities to learn more about the current situation and to contact their representatives in Congress.

Recently, similar resolutions have been considered and adopted by other church bodies. In 1989 the ELCA adopted a Social Statement on the Israeli/Palestinian Conflict and we use that document to craft our communications with legislatures. Here is the link for those who are interested in learning more:

<http://www.elca.org/Faith/Faith-and-Society/Social-Messages/Israeli-Palestinian-Conflict>

Aside from the business portion of the assembly, workshops were offered and each voting member could attend two sessions with the exception of the one on Church Security (half of the voting members from Redeemer attended this workshop in our continued desire to make us as safe as possible 24 hours a day and 7 days a week). Other workshops included:

- Discussions on the ELCA Policy Statement on Our Inter-Religious Commitment
- Discussions on the ELCA Draft Social Statement On Women and Justice
- Discussions on race and racism in our churches

In terms of the vision of the synod updates were given on the New Connections Campaign of which we are a partner (Florence Ofili-Toviho is the coordinator for our efforts at Redeemer). The overall goal for the synod is to grow the churches in our synod by 3,000 new connections (active participants) and to raise $2.25 million dollars to support our churches in creative outreach ventures. Here is a link to all those details: <http://metrodcelca.org/wpcontent/uploads/2013/06/unitnewconnections.pdf>

We are also working closely with the Caribbean Synod who suffered so much devastation after the hurricanes last summer. Building Puentes is a way for our synod and our congregations to connect with churches in Puerto Rico and other affected areas. Here is a link to all the details:

<https://metrodcelca.org/building-puentes-with-caribbean-synod/>

And then we came to the end of the assembly . . .

We accomplished much in a one 8-hour day!

I have always loved being part of the larger church body. I want to find ways for our members to be engaged in that ministry as well. For our voting members there was so much information that was given to us in this one day but it was renewing and energizing to hear the stories of our brothers and sisters in Christ. It will take some time for all of us who attended to process all that we saw and heard but there is one question in particular that we were asked that caught my attention immediately: How do we measure our church's vitality?

In the midst of all that we do at Redeemer, our council is also developing a New Connections Task Force that reflects the work of the synod. We are starting the process of developing a job description for the youth leader position. Deacon Erin continues her internship with us that will conclude at the end of this calendar year. And while all of that is going on, I want us to begin to answer that question for ourselves. How do we measure our vitality?

This fall we will be hosting a one-day retreat for council members and lay leaders to map a path forward for our congregation. We will need to answer that question first before we determine our future. We have done so much in our time together that is vital and life-giving. We need to name those things that hold us back for growth.

Please speak to me or any of our council members and help us answer that question. The intent is to be connected with God (up), with each other (in), and with our neighbor (out).

Yours in Christ –
Pastor Sandy Kessinger

Minutes from the Church Council Meeting of June 11, 2018

Council members present: Matthew Kratz (President), Mitch Brown, Karen Detweiler (Secretary), Deanna Heier, Stephanie Hunter, Pastor Sandy Kessinger, Joseph Kratz (Youth Representative), Steve Lancaster, Florence Ofili-Toviho, Roberta Pittman, and Rob Wenk. Absent: Laura Duval (Vice President), Dean Graves (Treasurer), Gordon Jones.

Opening

Matthew Kratz called the meeting to order at 7:30pm.

Pastor Kessinger led the Opening Devotions based on Living our Baptism ... Five gifts of discipleship. She shared reflections on yesterday's Mozart Mass as a gift of being part of Redeemer. Other gifts included welcoming, intergenerational interactions, and support for families (e.g., nursery during services).

Adoption of agenda

The agenda was adopted as presented.

Pastor's Report

Pastor Kessinger reported on her recent activities and shared a report from Deacon Erin. We have a number of Redeemer kids going to the ELCA National Youth Gathering and Lutherock confirmation camp. Compliments to Deanna Heier for her involvement in the recent Economic Equality Caucus at Redeemer.

Approval of Minutes

The minutes from the May 14, 2018 Council meeting were approved unanimously.

Treasurer's Report

Matthew Kratz shared the Treasurer's report, as Dean Graves was unable to attend the meeting. It was a good month for giving. We are beginning a regular financial review by an outside firm, which is conducted every three years. They mainly look at ways we can improve any practices or procedures. The review will last most of the summer.

Council Discussion

- Because of Marlon's resignation, the Council discussed Redeemer's position of Youth Mentor and how we will deal with Marlon's leaving at the end of the summer. Council tasked with determining needs of Redeemer in any potential future hire in this area. Steve Lancaster and Deanna Heier brought examples of position descriptions focused on ministry to middle- and high-schoolers. Key factors include:
 - Faith leadership
 - Maintaining open and continuing communications channels with the whole community, with parents, and with the young people.
 - Preparing and executing an annual program budget
 - Most descriptions focused on the middle- and high-school age bracket, while our history has been to include all youth (which calls for a range of skills and abilities). Examples include our Parents' nights out for very young children.
 - The (few) part time positions focused on coordination and engagement with parent volunteers; most position descriptions were for full-time.

Discussion also touched on:

- The need to engage children when they are young and have staff continuity in relationships as they grow up.
- The need to have an annual planning session in September to engage parents, get volunteers, and ensure continuity.
- Council might ask for someone from another congregation to talk about how their youth ministry is structured and staffed.
- Pastor will ask the youth on the Houston trip what they want the youth program to include.
- We need additional members for the New Connections task force. Council was asked to identify additional people to whom we could reach out.
- Deacon Erin's internship is proceeding well. There will be a three-month evaluation will be in July.
- Redeemer is located in the downtown McLean Community Business Center Planning Study area under Fairfax County's Comprehensive Plan. The Council is watching the developments.
- Discussion of a Council Retreat. It would include a visioning session. New Connections would be one part of our visioning. It has been about five years since our last plan. Pastor Kessinger will pulse members for potential dates.

Committee Reports:

- Stephanie Hunter updated the Social Concerns Committee work with a family through Lutheran Social Services Good Neighbor Program. Redeemer will be supporting a brother, sister and her daughter from Eritrea. Due to an accident, the brother was left paraplegic and needs medical assistance. The family will first need Redeemer's support as they transition to an apartment.
- Collections to support disaster relief in Ellicott City and Guatemala are underway.
- The food drives for Britepaths and SHARE were very successful. We are seeing more people in the community not applying for services.
- At the time of the meeting there were 14 children enrolled in Vacation Bible School and have room for 30.

Closing:

The next Council meeting will be held July 9, 2018. The next Executive Committee meeting will be July 5, 2018.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:45 pm with The Lord's Prayer.

Walking with Deacon Erin – Karen Cavallo Miller

Deacon Erin is now almost 2 months into her internship. You may be wondering what she has been up to. In addition to her regular duties at Redeemer, she has been working with Pastor Kessinger and Matt Osifchin to learn about service construction, participating in worship planning, liturgy writing, and hymn selection. She is working on skills needed for Pastoral Leadership (e.g., leading worship, preaching, and teaching). To develop her preaching skills, she will be in the pulpit on a pretty regular basis, and I look forward to hearing her message!

The Internship Committee has been learning that this internship thing is not for the faint of heart! We meet with Deacon Erin monthly to encourage and help her on this journey. Each month, we'll focus on a specific area, provide feedback on her progress, make sure she is on track, and most importantly, ensure that she is taking care of herself during this mentally, physically, and spiritually challenging time. This month's focus area is Teaching – both children and adults. I'm anxious to hear about her experience with the confirmands at Luther Rock, through her pastoral lens.

The committee is also called upon to walk with Deacon Erin by examining our own calling. We are using the book "The Stories We Live" by Kathleen Cahalan, to help us in that work.

As Deacon Erin continues her pastoral discernment, you may wonder how you can support her. First, pray! Pray for Erin, her family, the Committee, Pastor Kessinger and the staff at Redeemer. Check in with her. Ask what she is learning and where she sees and hears God along the way. Offer a kind word of gratitude. Offer encouragement. Check in with the committee if you have specific words of praise that you'd like us to pass along. Walk beside her and think of your own calling and ways to share that with her and others.

A Message from Deacon Erin

As I write this newsletter, I am sitting in the mountains of North Carolina – what a glorious and wonderful site. Even though this was the first sleepaway camp for many of our students, they arrived on time for our very early departure on Sunday, June 18 and spent the next eight hours getting to know each other and their new friends from Lord of Life Lutheran Church. Our group arrived safely and were greeted by energetic young people who walked, talked, and challenged our group to grow into the persons God created us to be.

We awoke to blue skies and Monday was filled with more sun than I've ever experienced during my other trips to Lutherock. It was the perfect day for long hikes to Luther Rock and Pinnacle. Although I love the chance to see our kids enjoying the outdoors, it was our teaching time around the campfire that really impressed me. We have amazing, articulate, and theologically astute young people! Given the chance (and a little encouragement), they grew in their understanding and awareness of their faith. They dove into Scripture and studied several journeys of faith making connections to their lives and identifying ways they can be the hands and feet of Christ.

Thank you for praying for us throughout our week – we felt the prayers and will continue to see the fruit of these prayers. A big thanks to Sabine Detweiler for her willingness to accompany us on this journey and her calm presence throughout the week. Thanks to Max Miller for his enthusiasm and willingness to play with, journey with, and join our young people on their faith journeys. Finally, thanks to Max Detweiler for his smiles, laughter, and willingness to be with a group of middle school students and adults – you did great! I am so proud of our young people and feel blessed for the time we could spend at Lutherock.

Blessings,

Deacon Erin

Our Favorite Things about Lutherock 2018

During the week of June 17-23, we had a wonderful group of confirmands experience Lutherock in Newland, North Carolina. These are some of the highlights of their week:

Anna D – My favorite part of Lutherock was the camp out because the s'mores were delicious, the stars were beautiful, and the fireflies were amazing.

Ava M – My favorite moment at camp was when we made s'mores over the greatest fire ever. Aside from the gooey glory of golden marshmallows, the view was the most beautiful. The fireflies lit up like Christmas lights and the surrounding mountains were amazing!

Ayo – My favorite parts of the trip were Gaga ball, the creek walk, the food, the sleep, the games, and having fun with my friends. I also liked learning about God and the Bible and also the service.

Clara D – My favorite part was the campout because we had a huge campfire with s'mores, watching fireflies, sleeping under the stars, and being with my friends.

Eric B – I enjoyed Gaga ball, basketball, and the rock slide.

Johanna L – I loved sleeping outside during the campout. It was beautiful and relaxing because it was under the stars. The fireflies were also really pretty.

Kyra M – I enjoyed playing hide-and-seek in the cabins because it is really fun to play in the dark. I also like the food because we all work up an appetite so it tastes even better!

Max D – I liked playing gaga ball.

Max M – My favorite part was getting to lead Bible study and see the kids connect with the passages.

Peter K – My favorite part of Lutherock was gaga ball.

Sabine – My favorite part of the Lutherock was seeing how the group connected in the course of the week.

Sebastian H – The view from the Saddle was Amazing! The zip line and ropes course was very fun. I learned more about Jesus and God, and I made some new friends!

Sierra B – My favorite things about Lutherock were Gaga ball, the creek walk and the painted rocks, fun with my friends, and the good food.

Tutu – My favorite things were gaga ball, the food, the campfire, the songs, and my counselors!

Social Concerns Ministry

Lutheran Social Services Refugee Program

We are pleased to update you all that we have been notified of our family assignment for the LSS Good Neighbor Program. Over the next six months, the Social Concerns Ministry at Redeemer will assist a refugee family from Eritrea as they settle here in Northern Virginia.

The family consists of two siblings, a young man and his sister, in their early twenties and thirties, along with the 4 year old daughter of the sister. Currently all three are living with numerous individuals in one home, but are working with LSS to find a home of their own. Furniture and household supplies will be needed in the future when the family is properly settled.

The young man is a paraplegic which creates additional challenges for the family. He is in need of a hospital bed and motorized wheel chair as well as medical supplies. Redeemer has offered to help with transportation for the young man to attend medical appointments and for the sister to go to job interviews.

We will soon post a list of needed furniture, household items and medical supplies for the family. Your donations and financial support are always welcome. For additional information on ways in which you may help out, please contact Joan Durman at jdur6740@gmail.com, Stephanie Hunter at sbeckes2001@yahoo.com, or Deanna Heier at dmheier@yahoo.com.
