I blew It!!

Satan is a master at making us feel like failures. He is quick to accuse and condemn each mistake or sin we commit. But consider this God says "you're not a failure you're a conqueror.

Abraham had his own blown experiences. He lied about Sarah, saying she was his sister more than once, to two separate kings. And his reason was to protect himself he thought the kings would see Sara's beauty and kill him to take her! Doesn't sound very noble and faith filled. His lying got him kicked out of each country and yet a bounty of gold and livestock were given to him just to get rid of him, thus Abraham became wealthy. Abraham was also willing to go along with Sara's scheme of Hagar as a wife. She produced the child and Sara had her thrown out of the house. Abraham went along with all of this, and we hear no complaint from God.

God still purposed to use Abraham, and so He did, producing Isaac and fulfilling his own word. God will not give up on you either, no matter how you've blown it God will keep His purpose and fulfill it in your life. Rely on God to make you what you should be, rely on his ways and purposes to fulfill your life! Lighten up, cast off the spirit of condemnation and enjoy the promise God is working in you.

Amen,
