Dear Parishioners,

Please participate in our new online parish picture directory. See the full page in this bulletin for details.

The parish picture directory is incredibly helpful to me as a priest. I know many of you have appreciated past directories as well. It is so nice to be able to look at someone's picture before visiting them in the hospital or meeting with them about a personal situation in life or preparing them for a sacrament. It helps us build community as we come to know each other.

This directory will be different from those in the past. No longer will you need to schedule a time to come to church to have your picture taken, view and choose a picture, and then be offered to purchase pictures. Instead, you may submit your own photo and keep it updated as life progresses. We had just under 800 pictures of households when pictures were taken in 2018 for our last directory. It would be great if we could have 1,200 or more families included now.

This will be on online directory that will be available only to those who participate by submitting a photo and create an account. You will determine which information you want available to others. The directory will be able to stay current as new members join our parish, as new children are born and as we look a bit different with time.

Please take some time to look at the information in this bulletin, to scan the QR code or go to raphael.org/directory for additional information, and to submit your picture. Please remember that we want a picture where we can easily see you!

I look forward to seeing your photo soon in our online directory!

Gratefully,

Fr. Tom

The 27th annual Back to School Fair collection has started and goes through August 2/3! The mission of the Fair is to give the most needy Oshkosh children the opportunity to return to school with the necessary supplies in order to be on a more equal level with their peers. Students who receive these items are referred by participating agencies. The goal for 2025/2026 is 1100 children.

Please choose a tag from the board in the Gathering Space and purchase any of the items on the tag. The items are not child specific but are for a general age group.

Do not wrap the items. Return them to the Gathering Space by August 3. Cash and gift card donations may also be given. Checks should be written to Community Back to School Fair.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Heavenly Hero for July: St. Kateri Tekakwitha

When the winter hunting season took Kateri and villagers away from the village, she made her own little chapel in the woods by making a wooden cross. She would spend her time in prayer, kneeling in the snow.

Below are directions for how to make a wooden cross like Kateri

- Find two sticks
- Tie them together in the shape of a cross with some twine or string
- Say a simple prayer (Kateri's last words and prayer was, "Jesus, I love you.")
- Leave the crosses around your neighborhood or nearby natural area for others to find as a surprise.

Elementary Faith Formation Coordinator

St. Raphael is seeking an enthusiastic person to join the Faith Formation Team. This person will promote quality catechesis for grades 1-5. Specific responsibilities include: coordinate Faith Formation for grades 1-5; develop and implement lesson plans for grades 1-5; actively recruit, support and mentor volunteer catechists; and collaborate with the faith formation team in ministering to and supporting the domestic church of each family.

This part-time (9 months/20 hours per week) position is a key member of the faith formation team. Our parish has a commitment to helping youth and families develop a personal relationship with Jesus. The person must be a practicing Catholic in good standing with an understanding of child development, learning styles and needs. A degree or certificate in religious studies/theology is preferred.

Please send your resume and cover letter to Jessie Adrians, Director of Religious Education.

Craft Books for Education

St Raphael parishioners Gabe, Camden and Sadie, 3 high school students enrolled in the Global Academy Program at Oshkosh West, are working on their Capstone project in order to achieve their certificates of Global Competence. To receive this certificate, a community service project addressing one of the United Nations' 17 goals for sustainable development that has both a global and local impact needs to be completed. Because of this, Gabe, Camden and Sadie chose to support education world-wide as that is something they are deeply passionate about.

To do this, they will be taking orders and donations for a craft that they are making with the proceeds being split between Classroom Donations International, a nonprofit organization that helps provide supplies and grants to schools in need around the world, and the Winnebago Area Literacy Council to provide local refugee children with school supplies and to aid in their learning of how to read.

The craft itself is that old books are hand folded to be inscribed with any word, name or numbers that are desired by the person who orders. Instead of a set price for the books, a goodwill donation will be accepted. The recommended donation is $40 for 4 or less characters, $50 for 5-6 characters and $60 for 7 or more characters. However, any amount that anyone is inclined to give will be greatly appreciated. There will be a table set up after Mass on July 19 and 20 to learn more. Please stop by the table to order a book or contact the parish office.

What Makes Catholic Families Different Part 2

How are Catholic families suppose to be different from other families? I don't mean different in the sense of putting on airs, pretending to be holier than thou, or acting weird in some way. But if you read the Church's teachings on marriage and family life, you'll see that the Church is on a mission to promote a particular vision of family life that is different from that of other families, in the sense that it is more intimate, more joyful, more "together."

In The Gospel of Life, St. John Paul the Great put forth what might be considered the mission statement for Catholic parents in contemporary times.

By word and example, in the daily round of relations and choices, and through concrete actions and signs, parents lead their children to authentic freedom, a sense of justice, cordial openness, dialogue, generous service, solidarity and all the other values which help people to live life as a gift.

This is the unique, Catholic vision of family life Catholic parents are called to uphold. Clearly it is a different vision of family life from the one that the world has to offer. As Christians, we are called to be salt and light in the world, God wants to change the world through the example of love lived out in our families, but how can we change the world if we look and act exactly like everyone else? In order for our children and to the world at large, Catholic couples and families must present a vision of love that shows our children that our Catholic faith can satisfy the longings of their heart, a vision of love that makes the world stand up and take notice.

So how do we do it? How do we enable our kids to experience the practical, positive, tangible difference our faith should make in our family life?

Catholic families worship together. The Eucharist is the source of our love and the sign of the intimacy to which we are called. As a family, we attend Mass together on Sundays and holy days (and at other times as we are able), and we actively participate in our parish.

We also recognize that sometimes we struggle to be the loving community we are called to be. Therefore, as a family, we regularly go to Confession (recommended: monthly) to seek God's healing and grace so we might better live his vision of love in our lives and homes.

Bringing Hope through the Spiritual Works of Mercy: #5 : Comfort the Sorrowful

In the face of great loss, we find ourselves speechless. If we are wise, we know that there is nothing we can say that will make things better, and in this moment we experience our own poverty. What can we give to a grieving person that will bring comfort? What can we say that will offer hope? When sorrow is deepest, our words will fall short. But that doesn't mean we have nothing to offer.

St. Paul in his Letter to the Romans encourages us to “rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep.” Whether or not we cry physical tears, our best hope to bring comfort is to enter into the experience of sorrow with the other person. As we allow their grief to touch our hearts, we suffer with them. Our presence with them in their sadness is a sign to them that they are not alone.

Jesus had the power to raise the dead, the power with a word to end the suffering of Mary and Martha when their brother Lazarus died. But before he called for Lazarus to come forth from the tomb, he wept. He entered into the sorrow and suffering of death and grieved alongside the two sisters first. Jesus offers us a pattern to follow. The time for words of hope may eventually come, when we can remind the sorrowful and ourselves that we have great hope that suffering will end and every tear be wiped away. But first let's not be afraid to enter into another's sorrow and to offer the comfort of experiencing their sadness with them.

Let us remain together in the heart of Jesus, and pray for one another!

Do not be afraid or terrified because of them, for the LORD your God goes with you; he will never leave you nor forsake you.

Dear Saint Raphael Family,

Thank you for your boundless support for me, especially during this past year. Your prayers, encouragement, and smiling faces I'd see on break have been incredible sources of nourishment for me. I cannot thank you enough for sharing this journey with me. This past year in seminary at Saint Francis de Sales in Milwaukee was filled with countless graces, as well as its fair share of struggles. The community and formation faculty were amazing. Walking alongside our parish son, Olivier, was a deep gift. This is truly a special place and a light for all of Wisconsin and the Midwest. I was blessed to be part of our sports teams (soccer, volleyball, flag football, you name it), a cantor (solo and in choir) for the liturgy, worked on the kitchen crew, was heavily involved in my teaching parish in Waukesha and many more highlights.

You may have noticed seeing me around Oshkosh more frequently this summer. Due to difficulties with health, and continued discernment of God's will for my life, the Diocese and I have decided that I will be stepping away from formation towards the priesthood. I want to thank you for your great support and encouragement over the years. The St Raphael parish community has been an incredible gift that has been irreplaceable! There are no regrets or reasons for concern as the Lord continues to bestow His great providence upon me and His Church.

In an exciting witness of God's providence, I am delighted to share that I will be coming back to the Oshkosh area to serve as the Adult Faith Formation and Liturgy Coordinator at Saint Jude Parish here in town. I am overjoyed that God has called me back to serve in my home community! I look forward to following Him, being closer to my parish family at St. Raphael, and expanding my heart towards the members of St. Jude Parish.

With a grateful heart,

Michael Wilms

Knight of the Month

Brother Knight Greg Weisse was selected as the council's Knight of the Month. Greg was the chairman for our brat fry in the month of June. Planning for this event starts in March. To get the brat barn at Festival is very competitive. Greg was able to get us three consecutive days at a prime time. Greg had to line up workers, and he was pretty much around early morning to shut down each day. Thank you, Greg, for making this event such a success. If you see Greg around, thank him for all his effort.
