The Salary Standards Committee acknowledges that Minimum Salary Standards have been misunderstood as simply for the benefit of rostered leaders; they are really a tool congregations use for ministry and mission in building up the body of Christ. They help congregations with long term financial planning to maintain staff positions to focus on vibrant ministry.

"The gifts he gave were that some would be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers, to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ." Ephesians 4.11–12

2018 Minimum Standards for Compensation and Benefits

There is a .3% CoLa increase in the 2018 Minimum Standards for Compensation and Benefits
Item E on page 5 was added as an amendment at the Synod Assembly on April 29, 2017

We encourage congregations to make use of the synod staff as a resource and the calculators available on the Portico Benefits website when determining total compensation and benefit costs for rostered leaders and program staff.

The Salary Standards Committee includes:

Rostered Leaders of the ELCA

Ministers of Word and Sacrament

Ordained ministers, or pastors, serve with hearts filled with love and courage, to offer the hope of the sacraments and to lead the proclamation of the Gospel. Typically, ordained ministers have a bachelor degree and a four year Master of Divinity degree. They have theological and practical training through seminary and the ELCA.

Ministers of Word and Service ("Deacons" per 2016 Constitution Changes) Associates in Ministry

Partners in ministry, these leaders are commissioned for ministry to equip and enable others in their Christian lives. They serve in congregations and other ministries of the ELCA. Most have a bachelor degree or master degree in a field appropriate for the primary service area and are commissioned by the ELCA.

Diaconal Ministers

These consecrated leaders seek to equip and motivate others to lead a model Christian life. Their vocation is lived-out in both church and world. They have a theological master degree and are consecrated by the ELCA.

Deaconesses

The ELCA Deaconess Community supports women who are consecrated for service to the church. They have a degree appropriate to their primary service area and are consecrated by the ELCA.

I. COMPENSATION

A. BASE SALARY

1. Education and Years of Experience¹

Those called to vocations in the church do so out of a desire to serve and their service should never be taken for granted (see 1 Timothy 5.18). The salaries of other rostered leaders do not include a housing allowance or parsonage and the salaries of rostered leaders with a bachelor degree is 10% less than those with a master degree. The following graphs are the minimum standards for rostered leaders who work full time (40 to 45 hours per week).

Experience	Base Salary Master Degree	Base Salary Bachelor Degree	Experience	Base Salary Master Degree	Base Salary Bachelor Degree
0	$37,995	$34,287	13	$48,759	$43,943
1	$38,806	$35,018	14	$49,686	$44,778

4	$41,350	$37,307	17	$52,062	$46,917
5	$42,235	$38,103	18	$52,794	$47,576
6	$43,034	$38,822	19	$53,533	$48,241
7	$43,846	$39,553	20	$54,285	$48,917
8	$44,678	$40,302	21	$54,739	$49,296
9	$45,522	$41,061	22	$55,511	$49,991
10	$46,383	$41,836	23	$56,293	$50,696
11	$46,953	$42,319	24	$57,087	$51,409
12	$47,846	$43,124	25	$57,893	$52,134

A parish personnel committee or the Congregation Council should review salaries and job descriptions annually with the staff person participating. Salary changes should include a cost of living adjustment and merit increases.

These figures are minimum guidelines and are not intended to restrict a congregation in fairly compensating a rostered leader. Congregations that are not presently at the salary standard range should attempt to reach the appropriate level within three years.

¹ According to the Department of Social Security, the cost of living adjustment (CoLA) for 2017 is 0.3%.

2. Housing—for ordained clergy only

For ordained clergy, the congregation provides (a) a housing allowance of 30% of base pay² or (b) a parsonage, including utilities, maintenance, phone, and housing equity fund.³ (See I.B on page 6.)

3. Additional Functions

Salary often is driven by other factors in addition to years of experience. While these are more difficult to objectively quantify, they should nevertheless enter into the conversation about salary. Some of these factors are:

a) Ratio of Staff to Size of Congregation (Based on Worship Attendance)

The size of the congregation and the ratio of staff to worship attendance should be considered. For example, a solo pastor with no program staff serving a congregation with average worship attendance of 250+ should receive an additional $1,000 compensation to reflect the added demands placed upon them.

b) Supervisory Responsibilities for Program Staff

(1) $1,000 for supervision of 2–3 program staff

(2) $1,500 for supervision of 4+ program staff

c) Additional Education

Consideration of $500 to $1,500 for additional earned degrees beyond the master degree is appropriate.

d) Previous Work Experience Prior to Ordination/Consecration/Commissioning

Experience may also include unordained ministry in the church and/or secular work which enhances a person's skills for ministry. Experience prior to ordination/consecration/commissioning is calculated at the rate of $\frac{1}{3}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ year for each year up to ten years of prior experience (up to 5 years credit).

e) Multi-point parish

A solo pastor with no program staff serving more than one congregation should receive an additional $1,000 compensation to reflect the added demands placed upon them

4. Ongoing Considerations

a) Cost of living is not an adequate adjustment when used alone. Each year also brings with it an additional year of experience. Using only cost of living adjustments year after year ignores the accumulating experience level and results in the rostered leader gradually slipping below standards.

b) Review of performance and changes in levels of responsibility should also be considered annually, and may warrant additional salary consideration (see Appendix E).

5. Part Time Service

In order to remain on the rosters of this Church, a rostered leader must maintain at least a $\frac{1}{2}$ time call (15 hours per week). In the event that a congregation calls a rostered leader part time, it should be understood that part time status pertains to all of the following: salary, responsibilities, and hours, including the proportional number of Sundays (e.g. $\frac{3}{4}$ time means three out of four Sundays, etc). The minimum contributions levels still apply for Portico Benefit Services health benefits (i.e. the minimum contribution is NOT proportional). Congregations may need to develop lay leadership in the areas of visitation to homebound and hospitalized, teaching confirmation and Bible studies, administration, pulpit supply, and more. An ongoing conversation with synod staff may be helpful.

² Pastors may request that some of their cash salary be designated as additional housing allowance (see I.B.1 under "Housing").

³ See considerations for parsonage allowances in I.B.2 under "Housing."

B. HOUSING FOR ORDAINED CLERGY⁴

A unique feature of clergy compensation is the distinctive tax law regarding housing allowance for ordained ministers. This originated for clergy (and the military) because a parsonage was, at one time, standard for housing.

1. Housing Allowance

When there is a housing allowance, the pastor determines the amount of compensation to be set aside for housing allowance (based on IRS form 1828) and submits it to the Congregation Council. The Congregation Council must annually include the amount to be designated for housing in the council minutes prior to the beginning of the new tax year. The pastor assumes full responsibility for complying with IRS definitions of “cost to provide a house.”

2. Parsonage

a) Electric/Gas/Water/Sewer

When a parsonage is provided to the pastor, all utility costs and repairs are paid by the church. It is recommended that the congregation pay directly for the parsonage utilities because current tax law and Portico Benefit Services rules make such payment advantageous to both the congregation and the pastor.

OR in other instances when a parsonage is provided, the congregation may choose to grant an allowance for the pastor to pay for the utilities. The standard for this is $2,400 annually. The annual costs should be reviewed to be sure this is in line with actual expenses for the utilities.

b) Phone Service

Since it is important to be able to contact the pastor in case of emergency, local phone service should be provided.

c) Housing Equity Allowance

Where a parsonage is provided, the congregation is expected to contribute to a housing equity fund. This may be done by enrolling in the Optional Pension Plan through the ELCA Portico Benefit Services and designating that payment as “housing equity program.” The purpose of this allowance is to provide financial resources under the supervision of Portico Benefit Services for the pastor to purchase housing upon retirement, or when a new call requires the purchase of a home. This fund is not subject to income taxes since it is not paid directly to the pastor. The formula for the suggested amount is: housing equity allowance = (salary + 30% of salary) x 4.5%.

3. Furnishings Allowance

Whether the church provides a housing allowance or a parsonage, the tax code provides pastors an exemption from taxation on amounts spent for furnishings in the pastor’s residence. Simply designate a certain amount of the cash salary or add a portion to the compensation labeled “furnishings allowance.”

⁴ For tax purposes, the allowances in this section must be designated and clearly written by annual Congregation Council action before the year begins. Arrangements with the pastor for allowances paid for housing, utilities, and furnishings should be written clearly, so that they are excludable from taxable income according to the tax code. These are excludable only as spent, therefore the designation may be stated on the high side. “Expenses of providing a home include rent, house payments, furniture payments, cost for a garage, and utilities. They do not include the cost of food or servants”(current Federal Tax Guide). See Appendix C for sample forms related to housing designations.

C. SOCIAL SECURITY, IRS REPORTING, AND WORKER'S COMPENSATION

1. Social Security Allowance for Ordained Clergy

All pastors are considered self-employed for social security purposes and therefore will pay a self-employment tax of 15.3% of their income. Thus, it is recommended that the church or calling agency provide a social security allowance, even though it is taxable, to their pastor(s) to pay at least half (7.65%) of the self-employment tax as they do for the other employees of the church when they pay the employer's share of the FICA tax. Use this formula to determine half of the tax: Social Security Allowance = (salary + (housing allowance or 30% of salary for parsonage) + furnishings allowance + utilities allowance) x 7.65%.

This allowance is included on the pastor's W2 as taxable income.

2. IRS Reporting for Ordained Clergy

Congregations are to file federal tax W2 forms for ordained clergy, not a 1099 form.

3. Social Security Withholding for Lay Rostered Leaders

By law, congregations are required to pay half of the Social Security taxes (7.65% of taxable income) and to file federal tax W2 forms for all lay rostered employees.

4. Worker's Compensation

All congregations should provide worker's compensation coverage since definite liability accrues to the congregation in case of accidental death or disability in conjunction with one's employment.

II. BENEFITS

A. PENSION AND MAJOR MEDICAL/DENTAL BENEFITS

1. Participation

The congregation should budget for and participate in the ELCA Pension and Other Benefits Plan for clergy and rostered leaders. The plan provides retirement, survivor, disability, and health (medical/hospital, prescription drug, dental, behavioral health) benefits. The congregation subscribes to this program for the employee. More information is available from the synod office or directly from Portico Benefit Services of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, 800 Marquette Ave., Minneapolis, MN 55402; 800-352-2876. Employers are to maintain health coverage for all family members who do not have other adequate group coverage.

2. Pension Expectations

Pension contributions are to be paid commensurate with years of experience even if a congregation is not currently meeting salary standards. This will insure that rostered leaders receive an adequate pension at retirement. This in no way should prevent the rostered leader from receiving a salary increase each year.

3. Cost of Benefits

ELCA Portico Benefit Services uses "Defined Compensation" to determine the amount of the required pension contribution for ordained clergy. Defined Compensation = base salary + (housing allowance or for a parsonage 30% of (salary + social security allowance)) + social security allowance.

An estimated cost of pension, medical/dental benefits, and disability/survivor/administration can be found by using the Employer Link services on the ELCA Portico Benefits website: www.porticobenefits.org

4. Physical Examinations

Congregations are to encourage their rostered leaders to take advantage of their free annual preventive physical exams. For 2018 information, see the ELCA Medical Plan Brief Summary, Plan Description, or contact the Portico Benefit Services at 800-352-2876. Their website also has this information: www.porticobenefits.org.

B. MEDICAL FLEXIBLE SPENDING PLAN

A 2008 change in the Portico Benefit Services health plan includes an optional flexible spending account (pre-tax dollars) administered by Portico Benefit Services in conjunction with Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Eligible health FSA out of pocket expenses include medical, dental, prescription, eye, and mental health. Dependent care FSA is available and would include day care for children or care for adult dependent care. For specific information about qualifications, enrollment etc., visit Portico Benefit Services website at <https://www.porticobenefits.org/> or call 800-352-2876. Alternatively, a congregation may provide a supplemental plan, or a medical/dental reimbursement arrangement, or an FSA. The amounts received by a plan member under an alternative arrangement may or may not be taxable as compensation, depending on the arrangement.

C. PAID LEAVES

1. Sick Leave

In the event of accident or illness, a congregation's written policy should include one day of paid sick leave per calendar month, cumulative to 30 days.

2. Disability Leave

In event of disability of the congregation's called rostered leader, congregations are asked to cover the first two months, full salary and housing, after which the disability benefits of the ELCA take effect. Please check for details in the ELCA benefit information.

3. Family Leave⁵

Family leave is intended for birth or adoption. Congregations should make a plan for family leave that includes six weeks for women and two weeks for men. Family leave consists of full salary, housing and benefits. Other vacation time or unpaid sick time may be used in addition to the family leave time.

4. Compassion Leave

Congregations should be prepared to offer compassion leave for a death in the rostered leader's immediate family (spouse, children, parents, brother, sister, grandchildren, mother-in-law, father-in-law or legal guardian). While this will vary widely upon circumstances, three to five days (potentially including a Sunday) of paid leave for funeral planning and family time would be a compassionate first step in a difficult time.

D. OTHER INSURANCE, OPTIONAL PENSION PLAN PAYMENTS

ELCA Portico Benefit Services offers an Optional Pension Plan for employer contributions such as housing equity for ordained clergy and/or voluntary salary reduction agreements if the rostered leader wishes to participate in a tax-sheltered annuity. Also, congregations may choose to provide additional benefits or insurance through other vendors.

⁵ See Appendix F for Model Family Leave Agreement.

III. REIMBURSED PROFESSIONAL EXPENSES⁶

A. AUTOMOBILE ALLOWANCE (Recommended: lease/purchase or IRS mileage rate)

1. Lease/Purchase Vehicle

It is recommended that a parish consider a purchase or lease arrangement of an automobile provided for the rostered leader for congregational business. An arrangement may also be made for private use by the rostered leader with reimbursement of mileage to the congregation.

2. IRS Mileage Rate

The most equitable way of reimbursement for congregational business travel when the car is owned by the individual, not the congregation, is to use the mileage rate established by the Internal Revenue Service. For the current rate, type "mileage" into the search bar at www.irs.gov. Under present tax structure, if the congregation does not provide a vehicle, this is the fairest and best way for the individual to be reimbursed.

3. Lump Sum Allowance

If the congregation and rostered leader choose to have a lump sum travel allowance, then the rostered leader must, by tax law, keep careful record of church business miles driven and report these to a congregation officer. This should be done also to keep the congregation informed of the pastor's need as to the amount of this allowance, as well as for reporting to the Internal Revenue Service.

B. CONTINUING EDUCATION (Recommended: $900)

It is of prime importance both for the congregation and the rostered leader that continuing education be encouraged and supported by the congregation. Congregation councils and rostered leaders should mutually strategize about future educational opportunities and complete a Continuing Education Covenant.

1. General Expectations

Two weeks for continuing education including two Sundays with $900 paid by the congregation is standard. An absolute minimum is one week with $600 paid by the congregation. A minimum of 50 contact hours per year of intentional continuing education, or 150 contact hours each three-year period, is encouraged. Beyond structured classroom settings, this time may also include guided independent study.

2. First Call Theological Education

First Call Theological Education helps to develop and support leaders to grow in their ministry and benefits the congregation with healthy leaders and longevity. This is a structured program intended to provide development in three areas: ministerial identity, ministerial skills, and context of ministry. Congregations with First Call Rostered Leaders will need to plan additional funds and time for the individual to participate in the required First Call Theological Education required by the ELCA.

3. Long Term Planning

A provision allowing the rostered leader to accumulate continuing education time and money up to a maximum of three years provides for more structured study opportunity. If the rostered leader is to be gone for as much as six weeks for this purpose it may be well to require that she/he agree to serve for at least one more year with the particular congregation. Accumulated funds for continuing education and sabbatical for the rostered leader should be reserved in the congregation treasury as funds restricted for that purpose. Monies for leadership training of other people of the congregation should be in another budget category.

⁶ Congregations are discouraged from shifting cash salary into reimbursable accounts because that decreases pension contributions. Payment of taxes is required for all lump sum allowances that are not supported by adequate records.

C. PROFESSIONAL MINISTRY EXPENSES (Recommended: $300)

1. Books, Periodicals, Dues, Etc.

An amount of $300 is recommended for this reimbursable budget item for the purpose of books, periodicals, and appropriate dues. This should be a reimbursement allowance based upon actual expenditures only. Books, etc. purchased become the rostered leader's property.

2. Other Expenses

Expenses incurred in performance of the duties of the office shall be paid by the parish.

D. OFFICIAL MEETINGS (Recommended: $600)

Rostered leaders under regular congregational call are expected to attend four meetings of the synod each year:

- Winter Theological Event

- Synod Assembly

- Fall Ministry Retreat

- Conference Assembly

These meetings include the business of the synod, theological reflection, best practices in ministry training, conference involvement, healthy collegial interaction, and worship. An amount of $600 is recommended to cover the registration fees of these meetings. Congregations are encouraged to reimburse their rostered leader's spouse for the Fall Ministry Retreat and the Synod Spouse's Retreat.

E. MOVING EXPENSES

The beginning of a new ministry partnership between a candidate and a congregation is a crucial time for ministry. Good conversation provides for a healthy beginning of ministry together. Call committees and candidates need to dialogue in the call process about both parties expectation around residency and moving expenses. Congregations in self-study should budget for and begin to set aside funds for the interview process and moving expenses. Moving expenses vary greatly. Congregations will positively begin a relationship with a new rostered leader when adequate funds are readily available for the transition of the rostered leader. Congregations will provide for moving expenses of arriving rostered leaders. The rostered leaders should obtain multiple bids from professional movers to submit to the Congregation Council. Alternatives may be mutually negotiated.

IV. WEEKLY, ANNUAL AND SABBATHICAL TIME COMPENSATION

A. SABBATH DAY (Recommended: 40 to 45 hours per week; at least one full day off)

1. Weekly Rhythm of Work and Rest

Full-time called rostered leaders of our congregations must strive for a healthy balance in their lives between their time for God, time for their families and personal life, and their calling to the church. Clearly defined expectations of work and time off are important for both the rostered leader and the congregation. Knowing that some weeks will be more demanding and some less, 40 to 45 hours per week is a fair expectation for both congregation and rostered leader. A Sabbath day each week is God's command and, even more importantly, God's gift.

Since church work requires a great deal of evening and weekend involvement, one way to reasonably set expectations with the rostered leader is to think in terms of blocks of time. Each day can be considered to have three blocks of time—morning, afternoon, and evening. A seven day week consists of 21 time blocks. A reasonable expectation of full-time service might be 13-14 time blocks. Weekly time off to provide a normal opportunity for renewal, refreshment, and personal business would usually involve 7-8 time blocks per week. Arrangements should be flexible for both the rostered leader and the congregation, but should also provide for emergency pastoral care when the rostered leader is unavailable.

2. Encourage Rest as Well as Work

Congregations should be sure to support their rostered leader taking at least one full day off each week. The specific regular day off each week should be announced and communicated so all understand this. Flexibility is necessary, but a definite pattern makes for better health and attitude for all concerned.

B. VACATION TIME (Recommended: 4 weeks; 11+ years of experience: 5 weeks)

1. Vacation

Rostered leaders will receive four weeks including Sundays until the eleventh year of experience when vacation time will be increased to five weeks including five Sundays. Vacation time may not be carried over from one year to another, unless so stated in the Letter of Call or by specific agreement with the congregation. Rostered leaders in part-time calls should receive the same weeks of paid vacation, but at their usual part-time salary.⁷

2. Additional Personal Sundays

Some congregations choose to grant one or more Sundays or weekends to their rostered leader as personal time beyond the vacation agreement.

3. Encourage Annual Rest

The congregation's strong support of the vacation time of the rostered leader is very helpful. Remember that most rostered leaders do not get weekends off like many others in our society. Therefore, vacation time becomes all the more important due to of the "on-call" nature of the rostered leader's work as well as the limited, and often disrupted, day-off pattern, and the constant weekend duty. Congregations are encouraged to make sure their rostered staff takes full advantage of vacation.

4. Holidays

Congregations should provide appropriate time off for general holidays. If the actual day cannot be taken another day off should be granted.

⁷ See Appendix H for Pulpit Supply standards and information.

C. CONTINUING EDUCATION TIME (Recommended: two weeks)

Two weeks for continuing education is standard. An absolute minimum is one week.⁸ See III.B on page 9.

D. SABBATICALS/RENEWAL LEAVE⁹ (Recommended)

1. Rationale

To encourage the congregational health that comes with longer tenured leaders, congregations should grant a sabbatical leave for rostered leaders after at least every seven years of service, with a minimum length of three months in the seventh year.

2. Funding Sabbaticals

Accumulated funds for a sabbatical for the rostered leader should be reserved in the congregation treasury as funds restricted for that purpose.

⁸ See Appendix H for Pulpit Supply standards and information.

⁹ See Appendix G for the synod's Model Sabbatical/Renewal Leave Agreement. 2018 Minimum Standards for Compensation and Benefits—Rostered Leaders

V. COMPENSATION REVIEW TASK FORCE

A. COMPOSITION AND PURPOSE

A compensation task force might be made up of two council members, a member of the Staff Support Committee, and a member at large from the congregation. These should be persons who are representative of the congregation, and ought to take into account the following factors:

1. Rostered Leaders are Professionals

Rostered leaders are professionals by training, qualification, and function. The levels of their responsibilities are similar to persons who hold positions in the community such as school administrators and hospital administrators. A compensation package should be large enough so that a rostered leader does not have to rely on honorariums. (Honorariums are expressions of gratitude, not payment for services.)

2. Other Factors

Also consider the economics of the parish, the amount of responsibility, the non-parish experience of the pastor, additional education, and effectiveness.

3. Study the Base Salary Grid in the Salary Standards (page 4)

These are minimum compensation figures for full time leadership.

B. SUGGESTED MEETING FORMAT

The task force meets with the rostered leader and other staff members. The following is a guide for discussion and negotiation.

1. Open the meeting with prayer and/or devotions.
2. Talk about what the congregation has needed most from the rostered leader this past year.
3. What ministry goals or objectives have been accomplished this past year?
4. Discuss together what is especially needed from the pastor in the coming year. What ministry goals or objectives can we set together for the coming year?
5. What do the members of the task force see as the special gifts, or strengths, of the rostered leader?
6. What are the growth areas for the rostered leader to address?
7. Identify the community and church activities (outside the congregation) in which the rostered leader is involved. Discuss how the involvement relates to the mission of the congregation.
8. How could the members of the congregation support and encourage the rostered leader's work and strive to make mission to the world more effective?
9. Discuss together what would be fair compensation and benefits for the coming year. The rostered leader may offer a proposal, to which the task force will respond. If the rostered leader does not offer a proposal, the task force will offer one. After fair and open discussion and negotiation, a recommendation is made.

Pastor and People: Making Mutual Ministry Work from Augsburg Fortress is an excellent resource for evaluating the mission that congregation and rostered leader engage in together.

I. COMPENSATION

A. SALARY OR WAGES

1. Explore Local Comparable Salary and Wages

With the wide variety of economic conditions within the communities of this synod it is very difficult to provide standards for lay program and support staff personnel. Staff support committees are encouraged to find local comparable positions. Also consider the cost of living in the community and strive for a wage that will attract and keep the employee, be commensurate with the area market, and provide just compensation. One way to determine this is to utilize a local job service in the area.

A parish personnel committee or the Congregation Council should review wages and job descriptions annually with the staff person participating. Salary changes should include a cost of living adjustment and merit increases.

Congregations hiring support staff are advised that persons with special needs and gifts are available in most communities to contribute their skills in meaningful employment. Federal and state programs may be available to assist with compensation.

2. Additional Factors

Compensation should be increased for two-year technical or associate degrees and advanced bachelor or master degree.

3. Ongoing Considerations

- a) Cost of living is not an adequate adjustment when used alone. Each year also brings with it an additional year of experience. Using only cost of living adjustments year after year ignores the accumulating experience level and results in the staff person gradually slipping below standards.
- b) Review of performance and changes in levels of responsibility should also be considered annually, and may warrant additional salary consideration (see Appendix E).

4. Lay Program Staff¹⁰

Lay professionals are those who usually have a degree, specialized training, or certifications as Parish Worker, Youth Director, Parish Education Director, Volunteer Coordinator, Executive Assistant, etc. Their salaries do not include a housing allowance or parsonage and lay program staff with a bachelor degree is 20% less than those with a master degree. The following graph are the minimum standards for non-rostered program staff with a master degree in their field of work, who work full time (40-45 hours per week). The chart reflects a .3% increase from 2017 published standards and is reflective of the 2017 CoLa.

5. Organist/Church Musicians

Church musicians/organists faithfully commit their time on Sunday mornings in addition to hours of preparation and practice. The following are suggested guidelines to begin the conversation with your church musician for fair compensation taking into consideration the actual responsibilities expected of your church musician (leading hymns only, choir accompaniment, choir rehearsal, picking hymns, etc.), number of services, education level and years of experience. The suggested range for a worship service is $30 to $115. The American Guild of Organists minimum hourly rate is $20 to $28.

6. Support Staff

The support staff provides necessary services to allow ministry to proceed effectively. The support staff has major responsibilities in public relations. The ministry of the congregation is greatly enhanced by the ability of its staff in dealing with people. Support staff includes secretary, custodian, treasurer, financial secretary, etc.

II. BENEFITS

A. SOCIAL SECURITY, WORKER'S COMPENSATION

1. Social Security Withholding

By law, congregations are required to pay half of the Social Security taxes (7.65% of taxable income) and to file federal tax W2 forms for all lay employees.

2. Worker's Compensation

All congregations should provide worker's compensation coverage since definite liability accrues to the congregation in case of accidental death or disability in conjunction with one's employment.

B. MEDICAL, DENTAL AND PENSION BENEFITS

1. Medical Benefits

Church staff workers who are employed for 20 or more hours per week for six or more months of the year are eligible to be included in the ELCA Pension and Other Benefits Program.

2. Medical Flexible Spending Plan

A 2008 change in the Portico Benefit Services health plan includes an optional flexible spending account (pre-tax dollars) administered by the Portico Benefit Services in conjunction with Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Eligible health FSA out of pocket expenses include medical, dental, prescription, eye, and mental health. Dependent care FSA is available and would include day care for children or care for adult dependent care. For specific information about qualifications, enrollment etc, visit Portico Benefit Services website at www.porticobenefits.org or call 800-352-2876. Alternatively, a congregation may provide a supplemental plan, or a medical/dental reimbursement arrangement, or an FSA. The amounts received by a plan member under an alternative arrangement may or may not be taxable as compensation, depending on the arrangement.

3. Pension Option

A tax sheltered annuity can be offered in lieu of the Pension Plan should that be more valuable to the lay worker.

C. PAID LEAVES

1. Sick Leave

In the event of accident or illness, a congregation's written policy should include one day of paid sick leave per calendar month, cumulative to 30 days.

2. Family Leave¹¹

Family leave is intended for birth or adoption. Congregations should make a plan for family leave that includes six weeks for women and two weeks for men. Family leave consists of full salary and benefits. Other vacation time or unpaid sick time may be used in addition to the family leave time.

3. Compassion Leave

Congregations should be prepared to offer compassion leave for a death in the employee's immediate family (spouse, children, parents, brother, sister, grandchildren, mother-in-law, father-in-law or legal guardian). While this will vary widely upon circumstances, three to five days (potentially including a Sunday) of paid leave for funeral planning and family time would be a compassionate first step in a difficult time.

¹⁰ See Appendix F for Family Leave Agreement.

III. SUPPORT EXPENSES

A. AUTOMOBILE ALLOWANCE

The most equitable way of reimbursement for congregational business travel when the car is owned by the individual, not the congregation, is to use the mileage rate established by the Internal Revenue Service. For the current rate, type “mileage” into the search bar at www.irs.gov. Under present tax structure, if the congregation does not provide a vehicle, this is the fairest and best way for the individual to be reimbursed.

B. CONTINUING EDUCATION

Lay Program staff should receive a minimum of $400 for continuing education and one week of continuing education. Continuing education is important to the effectiveness of lay staff workers. Congregations are encouraged to offer both time and funds to staff for continuing education opportunities.

C. PROFESSIONAL MINISTRY EXPENSES

Congregations will find it beneficial to provide lay workers with funds to purchase books and professional publications as a way of enriching the congregation’s ministry.

IV. NON-FINANCIAL COMPENSATION

A. SABBATH DAY

1. Weekly Rhythm of Work and Rest

Support staff must strive for a healthy balance in their lives between their time for God, time for their families and personal life, and their calling to the church. While it is unusual for support staff to work more than 40 hours per week, they too need a day of rest. A Sabbath day each week is God’s command and, even more importantly, God’s gift.

2. Encourage Rest as Well as Work

Congregations should be sure to encourage their support staff taking at least one full day off each week. Regular posted hours are often helpful; flexibility is necessary, but a definite pattern makes for better health and attitude for all concerned.

B. VACATION TIME

A minimum of two weeks after one year, three weeks after four years, and four weeks after fifteen years of service should be provided. Sundays are to be included in vacation for those who have constant weekend duty.

C. CONTINUING EDUCATION

Continuing education is important to the effectiveness of lay staff workers. Congregations are encouraged to offer both time and funds to lay staff for continuing education opportunities.

V. COMPENSATION REVIEW TASK FORCE

A. COMPOSITION AND PURPOSE

A compensation task force might be made up of two council members, a member of the Staff Support Committee, and a member at large from the congregation. These should be persons who are representative of the congregation, and ought to take into account the following factors:

1. Support Staff are Essential to the Work of Many Parishes

Support staff engages in the details of parish life. Their experience, knowledge, and front line presence are often under-appreciated. The level of their responsibilities can be significant so congregations should strive to provide a fair compensation package.

2. Other Factors

Also consider the economics of the parish, the amount of responsibility, the non-parish experience of the staff person, additional education, and effectiveness. Study comparable positions in your community through your local job service and/or by contacting sister parishes in the area.

B. SUGGESTED MEETING FORMAT

The task force meets with staff members. The following is a guide for discussion and negotiation.

1. Open the meeting with prayer and/or devotions.
2. Talk about what the congregation has needed most from the support staff member this past year.
3. What ministry goals or objectives have been accomplished this past year?
4. Discuss together what is especially needed from the support staff member in the coming year. What ministry goals or objectives can we set together for the coming year?
5. What do the members of the task force see as the special gifts, or strengths, of the support staff member?
6. What are the growth areas for the support staff member to address?
7. Identify the community and church activities (outside the congregation) in which the support staff member is involved. Discuss how the involvement relates to the mission of the congregation.
8. How could the members of the congregation support and encourage the support staff member's work and strive to make mission to the world more effective?
9. Discuss together what would be fair compensation and benefits for the coming year. The support staff member may offer a proposal, to which the task force will respond. If the support staff member does not offer a proposal, the task force will offer one. After fair and open discussion and negotiation, a recommendation is made.

APPENDIX D—COST OF LIVING ADJUSTMENT (CoLA) HISTORY

The Salary Standards Committee and Synod Council is recommending a no increase this year to the base pay for pastors, lay rostered leaders, and lay program staff.

We studied the data from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and Social Security. For the year 2017, the Cost of Living Adjustment (CoLA) was calculated by Social Security Department to be 0.3%. Therefore, we are recommending a 0.3% increase in the salary standards for lay program staff for 2018. The increase for rostered leader salary standards is explained in the rationale on page 1. (The CoLA is based on the economic conditions of the previous year to calculate the increase in Social Security payments for the coming year. These salary standards lag behind by two years, i.e. the CoLA for 2017 is 0.3%, based on the economic data from 2016 and is used for the 2018 salary standards.)

APPENDIX E—MINISTRY REVIEW AND PERFORMANCE EVALUATION

“Conducting a fair and realistic evaluation of ministry is important for every congregation. A ministry review takes into consideration not only the leadership qualities of the pastor, but also the ministry provided by lay leaders and members of the congregation. This builds a foundation for performance evaluation through prayer, conversation, and team building” Pastor and People, 80.

This essential work does not focus on the pastor but how pastor (and other staff) and the congregation together are engaged in the mission of the church. “Healthy, growing congregations today realize that the church exists primarily for the sake of sharing the good news of God’s love in Jesus Christ with people who are not yet active in the body of Christ” Pastor and People, 82.

In order for this to work, the first step is to develop clear goals which guide the direction of ministry within the congregation. Then review and evaluation become a mutual conversation between pastor and people about progress toward fulfilling the congregation’s goals. In addition to reflecting back on the previous year’s work, it is important to look ahead to where God is leading the congregation next.

Three tools are included here to help congregations enter into this process of developing ministry goals, reviewing the ministry goals of the past year, and evaluating performance. Again, the focus is on the shared ministry of pastor and people for the sake of mission in God’s world. The success or failure of congregations is measured by our communal, faithful response to the grace of God in our lives. How are we doing? Let’s reflect, evaluate, and plan to make Christ known.

For other helpful tools, purchase Pastor and People: Making Mutual Ministry Work from Augsburg Fortress or borrow it from the Synod Resource Center.

Developing Ministry Goals

1. As a group, consider these questions:
 - Are there goals from last year that need to be continued?
 - Are there current ministries that are effective, but need to be strengthened?
 - Is our outreach to the community as strong as it should be?
 - In what specific ways could we strengthen our witness to Christ by interacting with unchurched people in our area?
 - In what specific ways could we increase our support of the people who are already a part of our congregation?
 - Are we fully utilizing our gifts to support God’s people throughout the world?
2. Individually, before the next meeting, list up to four goals you believe will strengthen the congregation’s ministry during the coming year.
3. At the next meeting, work with your group to develop a set of realistic ministry goals. Once the goals have been agreed upon, go back to each one and decide how the pastor, staff, and laity will be expected to contribute to carrying out that particular ministry goal.

Reviewing Ministry Goals and Achievements

On an annual basis, review the ministry goals established last year (or the priorities outlined on the pastor’s Letter of Call—both general and specific) and discuss how the pastor, staff, and laity have contributed toward the meeting of each goal.

Provide each person participating in the evaluation process with a list of the ministry goals and a copy of this worksheet for each goal.

1. A ministry goal for this year was

2. I have attempted to carry out this goal by

3. I have seen the pastor, staff, or other members of the congregation carry out this goal by

4. Select the statement that best describes your current thoughts about this ministry goal:
 We have completed this goal.
 This goal needs more time and work.
 This goal is no longer necessary.
 This goal turned out to be unrealistic.

5. Additional comments you would like to make concerning this goal:

APPENDIX F—FAMILY LEAVE AGREEMENT

The birth or adoption of a child is always a cause for celebration, and includes changes in the normal routine of life. Birth is also unpredictable and can bring about health concerns for a mother or child. When a birth occurs, mother and child need time together and mother needs time to restore health.

While an adoption may not present the same health stresses, it can present greater emotional and psychological needs in the family. Either way, time for the family to begin its life together is essential, especially in a time consuming calling such as ministry in the church.

The following is a model for Family Leave. Congregations and pastors are encouraged to use this as a guide to develop a leave agreement that best meets the needs of both the congregation and the pastor. Central to the model is the need for real rest and renewal for the mother, while at the same time ensuring that the essential ministries of the congregation continue.

The model below assumes a solo pastor.

Adapt as appropriate for multiple ordained staff situations, rostered leaders, or lay staff.

1. A Family Leave Plan will be created with congregational leadership and the rostered leader, either at the time of the call, at the announcement of pregnancy, or at the earliest date thereafter. The congregation and pastor are encouraged to work together to ensure that the needs of both are met in a spirit of Christian care and concern. The congregation and pastor will consult with the bishop and will appropriately and openly communicate the Family Leave plan with the members of the congregation.
2. The beginning of Family Leave will have an estimated date, oftentimes a due date. The delivery of the baby or when the newly adopted child is placed in the home is a good guide for the beginning of Family Leave, remembering that pregnancy is unpredictable. Mothers may choose to begin Family Leave on a due date, even if a baby has not arrived, or they may have health issues that require the use of sick leave prior to delivery. Family Leave will continue for six weeks with full salary, housing and benefits as defined in the congregation's mission plan (budget) for the year.
3. The pastor will work with a designated person or group of people to identify pastoral needs during a time of leave. The initial planning may be with a president, the executive committee, a mutual ministry committee, personnel committee, or a "Family Leave Planning Team". The Congregation Council must approve the Family Leave Plan. The plan should include a primary contact person in the congregation with clear instructions for notifying those involved in covering the ministry responsibilities including pulpit supply, funerals, teaching, pastoral care, etc.
4. The Family Leave Plan should include provision for the planning and leading of weekly worship services, including the designation of who will be proclaiming the gospel, whether there will be adjustments to the communion schedule, and other details pertinent to weekly worship.
5. The Family Leave Plan should include instructions for providing pastoral care in homes, during hospitalization, and in other times of emergency or crisis. Congregational members are encouraged to provide home visits to shut-ins. Hospitals generally have chaplaincy programs to assist families during a hospitalization or an emergency. Arrangements may be made with another pastor to cover other crisis situations.

6. The Family Leave Plan should include instructions for coverage of funerals and weddings both during the planned leave and unexpected early needs. Please remember that pastors do care about families at the time of death, and although it may be difficult for both the pastor and congregation all must remember that God will provide for support and care even if a pastor is not able to lead the funeral service.
7. The Congregation Council and those designated in the Family Leave Plan will take the lead in providing guidance to the ministries of the congregation, recognizing that the ministry which takes place in the congregation is ultimately the responsibility of the people of God gathered in this place and at this time.
8. General administrative duties will be overseen by the congregation's Executive Committee or Congregation Council.
9. Records of emergencies, visits, funerals, marriages and congregational activities will be kept and made available to the pastor for clear communication and continuity of ministry.
10. As the gift of a new child is celebrated, the pastor understands the need of the congregation to celebrate that gift with the pastor and family.
11. During the Family Leave, the congregation's members will keep the pastor/staff and her family in their prayers!

APPENDIX G—MODEL SABBATICAL/RENEWAL LEAVE AGREEMENT

The model below assumes a solo pastor. Adapt as appropriate for multiple ordained staff situations, rostered leaders, or lay program staff.

Congregations of the ELCA have long been encouraged to provide time and financial assistance to pastors for continuing education. From time to time, however, pastors need an extended Sabbath rest from the demands of daily ministry for spiritual renewal. This is sabbatical/renewal leave.

The Scripture points to the renewing power of Sabbath time. We usually think of Sabbath as the seventh day of creation when God finished creating and rested. More than an afterthought of creation, the Sabbath is a gift from God of rest, renewal, and hope. The first books of Scripture speak of Sabbath days and years. Even the land was given a Sabbath when it was left to lie fallow and replenish itself.

Sabbaticals allow for possible new directions. Jesus' forty days in the wilderness marked a turning point in his ministry. Moses' time spent tending sheep helped change his perspective on life. David tended sheep too, and learned valuable lessons about God's care and provision. Paul struck down on the Damascus Road, disappeared into the desert of Arabia for three years and emerged with new vision.

In addition to Scripture, experience has shown that the congregation's ministry directly benefits from such study, growth, and renewal. Long-term ministry is revitalized and stimulated. All parties benefit.

"A sabbatical offers opportunity to get off the treadmill and provides an opportunity for renewal of vision and hope. It's more than just a chance to recharge your batteries for another year. It can be a life and soul-changing time, a time when perspective and the Holy Spirit can come together." (Alban Institute)

PURPOSE

A sabbatical/renewal leave is granted to provide an opportunity for pastors to take an extended period of time for renewal, spiritual growth, skill development, research, exploration, enrichment, study, and/or travel.

Think about what a pastor does every day: sermon preparation, bible study preparation, counseling, visiting the hospitalized and homebound, crisis management, parish administration, teaching confirmation, teaching adults, funerals, weddings, baptisms, stewardship drives, fund raising, denominational activities, and recruitment of people for tasks such as property maintenance, Sunday school, altar guild, committees, council, and more. And we want pastors to be healthy in body, mind and spirit, have a strong, healthy marriage, be a good parent and so on. But one thing is more important still—maintaining a right relationship with God for the benefit of the ministry the pastor leads with a congregation. The health of a congregation is directly connected to the health of its pastoral leaders.

A sabbatical, or Sabbath rest, for pastors is fundamentally different from the concept of sabbatical in the academic or business world. In the latter, those periods of time away from daily responsibilities are usually directed toward developing new courses, doing research, finishing advance degrees or achieving some definable success. A sabbatical for a pastor is dedicated to time with God so that the pastor may be refreshed by the Spirit and grow in love for God, God's church and God's people. When that time is granted, the pastor will bring back fruits to the congregation that wouldn't necessarily have been available without the sabbatical.

DURATION

A sabbatical is typically three months in length (including the two weeks of continuing education granted each year), and may be taken after every sixth full year of service in a call. Vacation should not be included as sabbatical time.

A SABBATICAL MAY INCLUDE:

A pastor is, above all, an authentic spiritual leader who carries out numerous roles and tasks for a congregation. However, underlying all of them is their role as spiritual leader. Therefore a sabbatical should include: time of reflection to sense God's voice and guidance, rekindling the spirit and the sense of calling by God, reconnecting more deeply with the tradition (Scripture, theology, liturgy), and deepening one's own spiritual life. A suggested guideline is a period of total rest and relaxation, a period of personal study for the purpose of renewal and for the sake of learning, and a period of study that will directly benefit the congregation.

BENEFITS FOR THE CONGREGATION

A sabbatical can be a great time to develop lay leadership within the congregation using the gifts God has provided to those in the Body of Christ and not just the pastor. A well-planned sabbatical can be a great occasion for re-visioning, re-invigorating, and recommitting lay leadership. For this very reason, it may be desirable not to seek an interim pastor, except for emergencies. This can give the congregation and especially its leadership a much clearer picture of what actually happens in the congregation and what the pastor does.

A sabbatical leave may be a time for the whole congregation to get into the "sabbath" mood—a distinctively counter-cultural stance of letting go and letting God, and rethinking the "busyness" of congregational, family, and individual life.

The congregation will benefit from a refreshed, re-energized pastoral leader. The congregation will reap the fruits of the pastor's renewed spirit as well as insights from study and reflection.

COST TO THE CONGREGATION

1. The congregation will continue to pay regular salary and benefits (base salary, Social Security allowance, housing allowance/parsonage, pension and insurance coverage). Car allowance and other reimbursements for ministry expenses are normally not paid during sabbatical time.
2. Up to three years of accrued continuing education dollars can be used for educational costs of the sabbatical.
3. The congregation will need to provide for their ministry needs during the sabbatical time. The Congregation Council in cooperation with the synod office and the pastor will need to determine if pastoral coverage is needed. This can range from some level of part-time pastoral care or pulpit supply for worship leadership to full-time interim ministry. Another pastor can be contracted for certain responsibilities, other staff may adjust responsibilities, and/or neighboring clergy may agree to cover certain responsibilities.
4. Prior to the time of a sabbatical leave, a congregation should establish a savings plan to be used to cover congregational expenses.
5. The congregation is not obligated to fund the sabbatical in any other way.

PLANNING

The planning for how the sabbatical time will be used is up to the pastor in consultation with the synod office and the local congregation. This “three way” partnership is very important. Neither the pastor nor the Congregation Council should make plans independent of this partnership. Be intentional in planning, but allow enough freedom for the movement of the Spirit.

A 7 year sabbatical/renewal leave plan could look like this:

1. Year 1: begin saving for the congregational expenses of the sabbatical/renewal leave.
2. Year 2: begin educating the congregation about the need for and benefits of sabbatical/renewal leave.
3. Year 3: explore spiritual gifts with all members of the congregation in anticipation of shared ministry during the sabbatical/renewal leave.
4. Year 4: identify areas of ministry that members can take on and determine the need for pastoral coverage during sabbatical/renewal leave.
5. Year 5: plan how congregational members will engage in ministry responsibilities during sabbatical/renewal leave.
6. Year 6: prepare lay people to engage in ministry responsibilities and determine the content of the sabbatical/renewal leave.
7. Year 7: send the pastor off for sabbatical/renewal leave and welcome the pastor back after three months.

COMMITMENTS FOLLOWING THE SABBATICAL

1. The pastor submits a report of the sabbatical/renewal leave and shares with congregational members their experience, reactions, learnings, insights, etc.
2. The pastor is normally expected to remain in the parish at least one year following a sabbatical/renewal leave.

CHECKLIST:

Congregations are encouraged to use this checklist as a framework for planning ministry coverage during a pastor’s sabbatical leave.

1. Mutual Ministry Committee or Congregation Council encourages the pastor to consider a sabbatical/renewal leave.
2. Pastor determines interest and how they might use the three months.
3. A sabbatical/renewal leave plan will be created with congregational leadership and the pastor to ensure that the needs of both are met in a spirit of Christian care and concern. The congregation and pastor will consult with the synod office and will communicate the Sabbatical Leave plan with the members of the congregation.
4. Congregation Council contacts the synod office for partnership in the sabbatical plans, and, if needed, aid in finding an interim minister.
5. The pastor will work with a designated group of people to identify pastoral needs and coverage during the sabbatical/renewal leave. The initial planning may be with the executive committee, a mutual ministry committee, personnel committee, or a “Sabbatical/Renewal Leave Planning Team”. The Congregation Council must approve the Sabbatical/Renewal Leave Plan. The plan should include a primary contact person in the congregation with clear instructions for those involved in doing ministry, including: pulpit supply, funerals, teaching, pastoral care, etc.

6. The Sabbatical/Renewal Leave Plan should include provision for the planning and leading of weekly worship services, including the designation of who will be proclaiming the gospel, whether there will be adjustments to the communion schedule, and other details pertinent to weekly worship.
7. The Sabbatical/Renewal Leave Plan should include instructions for providing pastoral care in homes, during hospitalization, and in other times of emergency or crisis. Congregational members are encouraged to provide home visits to shut-ins. Hospitals generally have chaplaincy programs to assist families during a hospitalization or an emergency. Arrangements may be made with another pastor to cover other crisis situations.
8. The Sabbatical/Renewal Leave Plan should include instructions for coverage of funerals and weddings during the planned leave. Please remember that pastors do care about families at the time of death, and although it may be difficult for both the pastor and congregation all must remember that God will provide for support and care even if a pastor is not able to lead the funeral service. Neighboring clergy may agree to “be on call” to cover these responsibilities.
9. The Congregation Council and those designated in the Sabbatical/Renewal Leave Plan will take the lead in providing guidance to the ministries of the congregation, recognizing that the ministry which takes place in the congregation is ultimately the responsibility of the people of God gathered in this place and at this time. Among other things, the Sabbatical/Renewal Leave Plan should include details for confirmation ministry, bible studies and any other pastoral responsibilities.
10. General administrative duties will be overseen by the congregation’s Executive Committee or Congregation Council.
11. Records of emergencies, visits, funerals, marriages and congregational activities will be kept and made available to the pastor for clear communication and continuity of ministry.
12. The Sabbatical Planning Team in consultation with the Congregation Council should determine if an interim pastor is needed. If so, how much time will the interim need to work? Will it be full time? Part time? Will regular office hours need to be kept? What are the expectations of the interim? Etc. Compensation should follow synod guidelines. The planning team may choose to apply for a grant for financial assistance, however these are limited.
13. The Council may need to adjust the budget to allow for additional staff coverage, if any.
14. Arrangements with all individuals involved should be in place three months in advance of the sabbatical including any compensation, number of hours to be worked, etc for an interim.
15. The pastor makes all necessary arrangements for their course of study, travel, etc.
