

If These Walls Could Talk What Might They Say

I came to life in 1904 when the Jewett's made an investment and built the home of their dreams. The foundation was laid, and my walls went up. I watched with great joy as William and Patty expressed their delight in how their dream came to life. Health issues forced the Jewett's to move and for many years no one resided within my walls. It was a sad and lonely time.

I awoke one morning, and I heard the lovely sounds of footsteps, Christian music being played, and God's word being spoken. First Lutheran Church had moved into my home and my parlor rooms were now their Sanctuary.

Today, I love to listen to the Christian learning, the laughter, and yes even the tears as people work through their problems, but after all these years my old walls are getting tired and are in need of tender loving care. I have heard talk that this church family at First Lutheran is in the midst of a Capital Campaign, which will raise funds to take care of me. I thank you for seeing my needs and for your contributions to take care of me. Even more so I thank you for allowing me to continue to serve as a warm and safe environment where the people of First Lutheran Church and the community can take advantage of the ministries of education, youth development, help groups and your evangelism outreach into the Colorado Springs Community.
