

Place God First in Your Budgeting and Spending

In the beginning there was God. The First Commandment is about our relationship with God. God gave his only Son for our Salvation. We are to sacrifice (donate) the first fruits to God. If we are generous we will prosper. God is and should be first in our lives.

Coach Bobby Bowden for decades used his life priorities of Faith, Family, and Football, in that order, to coach and turn the Florida State Seminoles into a prominent powerhouse in collegiate football. I think the priorities of Faith (God) and Family are universal. The third, "Football" is more individual and based on one's talent. Coach Bowden used his football talents to promulgate his Faith and sustain his Family. He put God (Faith) first and he prospered as did the Florida State Seminoles.

We are just embarking on a capital campaign to repair and renovate the Peel House so we can continue the legacy of God's work in the Christian education and community outreach programs which began in the Peel House many years ago. At the same time, we will retain a valuable and historical building. So let us go forth, putting God first, and rekindle the gift through joyful and generous support for the Peel House.
