My husband Rick and I joined Alleluia! in the fall of 1999. Our now adult daughters, Morgan and Rachael were born soon after. One of the best things to happen to us as a young family was to be connected to a small group, with whom we have been sharing our faith journey ever since. I began working as Alleluia's Small Group Coordinator (this title was later changed to Adult Ministries Director) in 2007. In this role I discovered the passion that I still have today for bringing people together in community, not only in small groups, but also in larger fellowship events. In 2017, I resigned from Alleluia! in order to pursue my chosen career in mental health. I worked as a therapist for a short time and quickly transitioned to my current full-time role leading a team of mental health professionals. I am humbled and honored to have been asked to fill an empty chair on our previous church Council and to serve a full term on our current Council. I pray for God's wisdom and grace to help guide Alleluia! as we move forward during this time of transition.
