Information

I look forward to meeting personally with each of you at conferences on November 25 and November 26. Please note conference dates are none preschool class days. Preschoolers and their siblings are welcome to play in the childcare room while we conference in the Frog room.

Beginning in the month of November preschoolers will begin taking turns bringing home the green family bag. In the family bag is the class "All About Me" book. We have read the book together as a class however, I encourage each family to read the book with your child as well. This provides a wonderful opportunity to talk and learn about your child's classmates. Please return the book and the bag the next class day to share with another friend.
