Donation Perspective: At The Daughter Project we believe all donations given to us are actually donations given to those we help and to God, Himself. We also believe that they deserve to be given only the best we can offer. Therefore, we will only accept donations of new items. We realize this “donation perspective” may offend some people but we hope everyone will be gracious to us in this regard. Ultimately our focus is on the well-being of our children & women and we believe our “only new items” policy reflects this. We expect this to help them make progress in their long journey of realizing their own self-worth in the eyes of others and, most importantly, in the eyes of God.
