Update on RCRC COVID Protocols

Yesterday's announcement from the CDC, and subsequent remarks from the President, regarding the relaxation of masking requirements came as a surprise to Council, as it did to all Americans. Council discussed the new guidance at last night's regularly-scheduled Council meeting. Throughout this pandemic, our Council has relied on the CDC to assist us in crafting our guidelines, and we plan to continue to follow its recommendations. Accordingly, we anticipate issuing new guidelines very soon. The timing of the release and implementation of those new guidelines will be based on when and how New York State responds to the CDC guidelines released yesterday. Stay tuned...

Sunday Evening Outdoor Service Cancelled

Although the weather forecast appears to show a warming trend heading into the weekend, it still appears that the temperature on Sunday evening is likely to be below a comfortable level for an outdoor service. Accordingly, we are cancelling the outdoor communion service scheduled for this Sunday evening. As to rescheduling the service, this is an open issue and your feedback would be very helpful to us in this regard. The main impetus for holding an outdoor service is to provide for the spiritual needs of those who might not yet be comfortable attending in-person worship. Accordingly, it would be helpful for us to know how many people in this category were planning on attending the outdoor service. If this describes you, please send an email to the office. Thanks!
