Watching God at Work...

Study courses resulting in expanded training sessions

God continues to expand the Bible study classes from village to village in the Amazon region. Russ returned two weeks ago from Brazil where he taught a seminar and gave out certificates to those who had completed the courses. These courses are used as an outreach to villages where there is no church. 20 people accepted the Lord last week in one village and 30 people in another! Please pray for churches to be established in these two new villages.

Efforts in this remote village of the Mayuruna Tribe

This Indigenous couple has the vision to reach their own people with the gospel. Severo is originally from this village (8-days boat ride upriver). Many of you helped pay passage for them to go to this village a few months ago. The children and adults are excited to receive Bible study materials. It is a place restricted by the government, so only Indigenous to the region are allowed to go there.

New Church Building in Cumaribo

Building is underway in Cumaribo, Colombia! Building in remote areas requires intense labor. The Indigenous men cut lumber from the jungle with chain saws. They dig the trenches for the footers, mix the concrete in a hole in the ground, and then pour the foundation. God provided the funds for this new outreach through a church partner in Ohio!

This area among the Guahíbo people is in the eastern part of Colombia close to Venezuela - far from the Amazon region. We will use this church as a teaching post for leaders and workers from many villages, and it will also provide evangelistic outreach to the town of Cumaribo. Other pastors will travel with us to help with the teaching. Groups of believers will gather from many villages in this central location.

A Faithful Servant goes Home

Lynn's father, Evertie Moore, passed into the presence of his Savior on October 14 after a brief illness. He served 41 years in the mountains of Kentucky, where he started several churches and a Christian school. Many friends knew him as a great prayer warrior and fervent soul winner. He was one of our greatest encouragers and prayer partners. How he will be missed!
