"I feel thin...
sort of stretched,
like butter scraped over too much bread."
- Bilbo Baggins

Do you ever feel exhausted in a way that sleep doesn't seem to fix?

We live in a world that celebrates "24/7" as though constant activity is something to admire. Yet the very first chapter of the Bible describes a different rhythm:
evening and morning,

day and night, six days of work and a day of rest.

Boundaries.

Breathing room.

Life as God intended it.

Many of us know the feeling Bilbo Baggins described when he said he felt "like butter spread over too much bread." Thin.

Stretched. Worn out.

And perhaps beneath that exhaustion is a deeper longing—the sense that you were made for more than this.

That word matters: made.

Because if you were made, then you have a Maker.

You are not an accident. You are not defined by your productivity, your failures, your achievements, or the opinions of others. You bear the image of God Himself.

Today we begin at the beginning and hear again the good news that this world is God's world, that your life has purpose, and that every person you encounter bears a dignity that comes from God.

You are precious.

And so are the people sitting around you.

*Holy, holy, holy, holy!
Holy, holy, holy! Lord God almighty!
Early in the morning our song shall rise to Thee;
Holy, holy, holy, merciful and mighty!
God in three persons, blessed Trinity!*

*Holy! Holy! Holy, holy!
Holy, holy, holy! All the saints adore Thee,
Casting down their golden crowns around the glassy sea;
Cherubim and seraphim, falling down before Thee,
Which wert and art and evermore shall be.*

*Holy, holy, holy! Though the darkness hide Thee, Though the eye of sinful man Thy glory many not see.
Only Thou art holy; there is none beside Thee,
Perfect in pow'r, in love, and purity.
Holy! Holy! Holy, holy!*

*Holy, holy, holy! Lord God Almighty!
All Thyworks shall praise Thy name in earth and sky and sea.
Holy, holy, holy, merciful and mighty!
God in three persons, blessed Trinity!
Holy! Holy! Holy, holy!*
