Be Angry, Do Not Sin and Go Read Psalm 4

Sometimes the New Testament authors expected you to know or go read part of the Old Testament! In Ephesian, Paul says,

“Be angry and do not sin.”

Do not let the sun go down on your anger.

And give no opportunity to the Devil.

Ephesians 4:26,27

It’s an excellent reminder to keep short lists of grievances by bringing grace to difficult situations and having necessary conversations before the day ends. It’s a reminder not to have an internal debate (that you win) without engaging with the actual person with whom you differ. It’s a reminder to go read Psalm 4, which Paul quoted in that first line.

Psalm 4

v.1b – you have given me relief in my distress

v.4b – ponder in your own hearts on your beds, and be silent. Selah

(no guitar solo this time, maybe a little Kenny G instrumental as you pause and ponder)

v.7 – you have put more joy in my heart than they have when grain and wine abound

v.8 – in peace I will both lie down and sleep, for you alone, O Lord, make me dwell in safety

Psalm 4 reminds us to find peace and sleep in God, rather than toss and turn in turmoil! Paul reminds us to find sleep in God’s power and presence rather than fuming all night in anger, lest we give the Devil an opportunity to divide and wreak havoc.

As you’ve read through Ephesians this month, what encouragements and challenges have you encountered? Share them with your family, your friends, your Sunday School class and whoever else you can!
