

We will shoot for bullet points here with links that will tell much more of the story. Briefly, Marcel's left arm is in a cast. Now that he's in a cast some simple things are not so, ah simple. He attempted to cut and peel a mango a few days ago and said that the mango would not cooperate and he put it in the fridge. So, in other words he's really not liking the cast. Pain is moderate and medication helps.
