Hook

Before you love me
You gotta respect me baby
Before you hold me
Our hearts gotta connect baby
If your with me then your with me
And you're not with no one else
And if you want me then accept that
I won't go for nothing else
And it's like that

Verse 1

In a relationship it's 2 being 1
We come from two different paths
We got to learn to adjust
You got to learn to trust
I'm not the other ones
That You ran from
But never talking to me
Is not the answer
Communication is key
To unlock your heart and understand what you need
Support your hopes and dreams
Hopefully you got mine
Hopefully we can grind (means - work on something together)
Hopefully within time
We can build something
When you see me walking up, do you feel something
This is more than a crush, this the real one
I respect you never use them four letters in vain
I ain't trying to run game
You think we all come the same
We trying to open your brain
Trying to know what you think
Not just the stuff that you tweet
What you hide underneath
Cause I can open up too
But I can never love you girl
If you don't respect you

Verse 2

In a relationship you know you got to give them space
Nobody likes somebody always all up in their face
It's cool to disagree but never jump up out of place
You never want to do something that you can't erase
Just one second you can't take that back
And this all because of control you lack
It's never cool to shake up or even a smack
Or even a punch
I hope you do know that
I mean we all got issues
Never know what someone's going through
Plus we got limits
So watch out when they're provoking you
You can talk to a counselor or a good friend
Or you can write your feelings down with your own pen
It's a lot of people sitting down tonight
Like, man, I should of walked away from that right
Cause violence never the answer
It's part of the cancer
That keeps us divided
Please love override ride it, ride it, ride it
Love override it, ride it, ride it
Give respect and you got it, got it, got it
Love override it, ride it, ride it
Give respect and you got it, got it, got it
