Sometime during the first week of February, Miss. Vetter, the elementary school art teacher, would visit our class with a stack of small white bags, red construction paper, glue and crayons. Our task was to decorate a bag that would be used to collect the myriad of Valentines that we would soon collect from our classmates. We took great care in folding the red paper and cutting a particular spiral that resulted in the perfect heart when the piece was unfolded. That year, third grade, I cut out several hearts, a large one for a body, a smaller one for a head, and four others for hands and feet. I pasted them in place and connected them with stick-figure lines to create Mr. Valentine! I carefully put my name, "Bill I." across the top of the bag and I was ready to collect my treasures.

On February 12th or 13th, I had finally bugged my mother enough that she bought a box of small valentines (with envelopes!) at the 5&10 downtown. That night I sat at the kitchen table to carefully choose the right sentiment for each classmate. Now, Miss. Heckman, our classroom teacher, had been very clear that each of us needed to give valentines to all of our classmates. We couldn't just pick and choose among the ones we liked or the ones who were most popular. So I began the arduous task of choosing just the right valentine for each and every person.

A cartoon frog that said "Hop to it and be my valentine" or a boy driving a car with the caption "You drive me crazy! Happy Valentines Day" would do nicely for the kids like Virginia Mason and Terry Grimes whom I didn't know very well. My best friend, Freddy Mancini, who was also on my Little League team got a baseball themed card. It had two kids in baseball uniforms and said, "Let's have a ball, Valentine!" And then there was Sherry White. I had walked her home from school every day since 2nd grade. Hers needed to be special. I picked the teddy bear standing over the caption "Bears Repeating." He held a big red heart that said "I Love You." I added another heart at the of my signature: Bill ©!

On the 14th, we all took in our valentines and distributed them into those decorated white bags that now lined the book case under the windows. Each of us got exactly 29 valentines: one from each of our classmates and one from Miss. Heckman.

Looking back, there was a lot of wisdom in Miss Heckman's decree that no one be left out of the valentine's distribution. She knew we weren't angels. She knew that J.T. DeDemenicus would always be disruptive in class and that Sue Lothrop was quite shy and didn't have a lot of friends. She knew that human nature would have us gravitate toward the more outgoing and popular kids in the class like Tommy Youtes. If human nature had its way, the J.T.'s and Sue's of the class would get very few valentines while Tommy's bag would be overflowing. But Miss. Heckman wanted us to learn that we were all valuable, that we were all lovable, that we were all loved. Popularity contests aside, we could all treat each other with love and respect at least one day per year. And from her own valentine, we could learn that each of us was loved.

Oh, if we could just hang on to those lessons we learned in 3rd grade. It seems that many today are forgetting that every person is valuable, that every person is loveable and that every person deserves respect. At least that's how Christ would have us see the world. Like the namesake of St. Valentine's Day who was martyred on February 14th for ministering to persecuted Christians in 273AD, Christ went to the cross for each and every child of God. He didn't pick and choose who would receive his love and grace, but he gave his heart to each and every one of us, making sure we know that we are loved.

Remember Christ's love for us this year and send a valentine to someone you haven't thought about in years. It will make their day...and yours!

Pastor Bill

Worship & Music

We are well into the new church year, year A of our 3-year cycle, during which many of the gospel readings are based in Matthew's gospel.

It has been a pleasure to hear from our gifted musicians:

Katie on cello

Ellen at piano

Eli on saxophone

Xavier on tuba

Jacob on cello

Tafford and Rick on guitars

Jim playing on 3 keyboards in various styles

Handbell ringers

Choir & Band Singers

Please take the time to thank them and encourage more participation. Maybe you could play or sing??? There are many opportunities in worship.

We are in the season after Epiphany now which will end on Transfiguration Sunday. Then Lent begins with Ash Wednesday, on which day this year Martin Luther is commemorated, too. Then, each Wednesday in Lent we share evening worship at 7:00 pm in the Chapel with a short reflective study and finish with Holden Evening Prayer. Please consider making that your reflective time commitment during Lent. We all need quiet times in our lives in which to draw near to God.

Our worship resource, Sundays & Seasons, offers the following questions to ponder: "Throughout the season, we are called to put our priorities in order. Throughout scripture we receive the invitation to examine ourselves. Are we storing up treasure in heaven? Are we bringing our questions to Jesus with hearts open to being transformed? Are we being as rigorously honest in all our doings as the woman at the well? Have we truly embraced the good news as both Martha, sister of Lazarus, and Mary, Mother of God did? Are we celebrating Jesus with the pilgrims in Jerusalem, crying "Hosanna! God save us!"

Calendar:

Sunday, February 8th: Scout Sunday on which we recognize the many Scouts and leaders we support. It is also Souper Bowl Sunday on which we bring food and/or money to donate to Minnie's Food Pantry.

Sunday, February 15th: Transfiguration Sunday

Wednesday, February 18th: Ash Wednesday with services at Noon in Chapel and at 7:00 pm in Sanctuary

Sunday, February 22nd: First Sunday in Lent

See you in worship! Lynn

Church Council

As we begin a new year, it's good to reflect on the past and look to the future. Resurrection Lutheran Church has a long and admirable 50 + year history as a congregation. This includes 40 years of Stephen Ministry, 36 years of School Supply Project work, 32 years of Cover Girls working for Lutheran World Relief, and countless other ways in which we have served our congregation, our community and our world. It's commendable! Yet, what about the future?

As our new Council met, we looked at the constitution for direction. It states: "The duties of the Congregational Council shall include: to lead this congregation in stating its Purpose to do strategic planning, to set goals and priorities, and to evaluate its activities in light of its Purposes, Plan, and Goals" and "to seek to involve all members of this congregation in worship, learning, witness, service and support".

This led to some serious discussion. Are we involving ALL MEMBERS? Do we have a plan for the future of our aging congregation to be able to sustain and/or develop new activities that will support our mission? Is it enough to be satisfied with what we have already done or do we need to search for new and different ways to reach our goals? Can we have another 50 years of good works? These are the questions we will be trying to answer over the course of this year. We want to hear from you...all of you! Ideas, thoughts, visions! You'll be hearing from us and we hope to be hearing from you!

We've done a great job of maintaining the beautiful physical structure of the church! Let's concentrate on the members, the mission and the body!

Respectfully submitted,

Kathy Barrett

Council President

Stephen Ministry

“You know when Jesus says ‘No one who puts a hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God’? I feel like I am one of those people that look back.” Mindsets like this are probably more common than we think, whether they are said out loud or not. As January passes, some New Year’s resolutions begin to drop off as people lose heart and dedication wanes. In general, ongoing efforts of improvement can be hard to sustain. Despite the difficulty, God calls us to action to renew our lives for His glory. As we wrestle with this call, it may be best to focus on God’s grace. Faith is a gift sustained by God, not something we must manufacture on our own.

As Stephen Ministers, or anyone trying to be helpful, it may be tempting to quote seemingly demanding scriptures such as Luke 9:62 referenced above or others like Hebrews 10:35-36, 39 and Philippians 3:13-14 that describe an “ideal Christian”. These scriptures could be used to call someone out, as if telling them they are “lazy” or that they need to “get it together” will give people the “kick in the pants” they need. Let’s remember, though, that the struggle is real. Keeping the faith can feel difficult—especially when the past seems safer or more familiar.

Perhaps another way to look at Scripture is that it is not intended to call us to heroic self-effort, but to steadfast trust in God’s promises. What if faith is not about perfection, but about continuing to lean into God’s mercy? Yes, following Him may mean releasing old securities, identities, or expectations, yet this letting go is always met by God’s grace. We move forward not to earn God’s love, but because we already live within it.

Therefore, through listening, prayer, and gentle presence, let us help others name their fears while also pointing to God’s faithfulness. May we trust together that Christ walks ahead of us, steady and sure. Holding fast to faith means trusting that God is still at work, leading us forward with compassion, promise, and hope.

Christian Education

Lent Begins on Ash Wednesday, February 18th. During Lent Brian Boyd and the Narrative Lectionary Friends are going to lead discussions based upon Martin Luther's Views on Lent.

These classes will be held in Room 1 after worship on Sunday, February 22nd, March 1st, 8th, 15th, 22nd, and 29th.

The Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) observes Lent similarly to Martin Luther's original intent: a penitential season of self-examination, prayer, and focusing on Christ's Passion, but emphasizes Christian freedom, so practices like fasting aren't mandatory but seen as spiritual exercises to strengthen faith and remember sacrifice, often involving special services and hunger relief efforts like ELCA World Hunger's 40 Days of Giving. Luther saw Lent as an opportunity for spiritual growth and preparation for Easter, a focus the ELCA continues, though with varying congregation practices.

Martin Luther's View on Lent:

- Spiritual Opportunity: A time for focused prayer, confession, self-examination, and growth in faith.
- Focus on Christ: Deep contemplation of Jesus' suffering, death, and resurrection.
- Christian Freedom: He stressed it wasn't a legalistic requirement for salvation, but a valuable practice.
- Practices: Included intensified prayer (especially the Lord's Prayer, Commandments, Creed), study, and spiritual discipline, often leading to personalized prayer books.
- Difference (Emphasis): Luther's personal discipline was intense; the ELCA provides structure but strongly upholds freedom in practice, connecting spiritual discipline to broader service (like hunger relief).

Resurrection Women's Retreat welcomes all women!!

In a culture that says bigger is better, it is subversive work to take tiny, lasting steps toward learning and growth.

Mid-day Thursday Bible Study

The question was asked by a member of RLC recently what exactly is the Ladies' Brown Bag 'n' Bible Study and who attends. The name has been changed and the group meets on Thursdays from 11:30 am to 1:00 pm in the RLC Library. You may want to bring your lunch or a snack to nibble on, or you may just want the opportunity to get to know the women and men who attend. Either way, feel free to join us.

Then at 12:00 pm, Pastor Bill arrives and we start to discuss the topic. The discussion lasts for one hour and at the present time we are studying the topic of:

Isaiah—Trusting God in Troubled Times.

FIRST TUESDAY BIBLE STUDY

All Women of RLC are welcome to join with us in this small group Bible study that meets once a month in the Library.

We will be meeting on Tuesday February 2, at 6:30 pm. The two topics will be a continuation of our study of prayer from the Gather magazine and we will also be looking at 40 ways we can be "feasting" with our God, our loved ones and the broader community, during this Lenten season, from pp.46-48 in Gather.

For more information, call Ruth @214-533-7554.

Narrative Lectionary Discussion

Sundays after worship, in the library

The Narrative Lectionary, developed at Luther Seminar in St. Paul, is a chronological approach to studying scripture beginning with Genesis and progressing sequentially through the old and new testaments. The class meets in the Library each Sunday about 11:15 am. The format is an interactive, participatory discussion led by a facilitator using the reading, commentary and additional insights from scholarly sources such as the texts used in the Synod's Parish Lay Ministry Academy (PLMA). Everyone is invited and encouraged to participate in the discussion or simply listen, if they choose. Preparation is not required. (Although it will enhance your experience.) So, get a cup of coffee and a pastry and join us at 11:15 am. We look forward to seeing you.

Souper Bowl of Caring

We will once again be collecting your food donations to serve our neighbors in need.

From now until February 8th, you can bring your food donations into

February Book Discussion

Women's Book Discussion

Saturday, February 28th — 9:00 am

Fourteen women enjoyed the Meadows Museum tour on January 10th relating to our last book, Attribution.

Our next Women's Book discussion will be held on Saturday, February 28th at 9:00. The selection is Go As A River by Shelley Reed. Here's a summary.

Seventeen-year-old Victoria Nash runs the household on her family's peach farm in the small ranch town of Iola, Colorado--the sole surviving female in a family of troubled men. Wilson Moon is a young drifter with a mysterious past, displaced from his tribal land and determined to live as he chooses.

Victoria encounters Wil by chance on a street corner, a meeting that profoundly alters both of their young lives, igniting as much passion as danger. When tragedy strikes, Victoria leaves the only life she has ever known, fleeing into the surrounding mountains, where she struggles to survive in the wilderness with no clear notion of what her future will bring. As the seasons change, she also charts the changes in herself, finding in the beautiful but harsh landscape the meaning and strength to move forward and rebuild all that she has lost, even as the Gunnison River threatens to submerge her homeland--its ranches, farms, and the beloved peach orchard that has been in her family for generations.

Inspired by true events surrounding the destruction of the town of Iola in the 1960s, Go as a River is a story of deeply held love in the face of hardship and loss, but also of finding courage, resilience, friendship, and, finally, home--where least expected. This stunning debut explores what it means to lead your life as if it were a river--gathering and flowing, finding a way forward even when a river is dammed.

All women are welcome!

Valentine Fun for Kids & Parents
Saturday, February 14th, 5:00 pm -9:00 pm
Cost: $5.00 per child
Sign-up sheet in Narthex

While parents are celebrating Valentine's Day by going out or enjoying a quiet dinner at home, their children (ages 5-13) are invited to join their friends for pizza+, games, and art in the Celebration Center. (Adult supervision provided by Women of RLC Board.)

We need at least six children registered by the February. 8th deadline. (If we don't have enough kids, we will sadly cancel the event.)

The RLC aluminum recycling was taken to the metal yard early January. We collected 124 lbs. of cans at $.68 cents a pound and 6 lbs. of aluminum sheet at $.62 cents a pound. The total was $88, which of course goes into the AOF fund to help pay for the heating and air conditioning in our facilities. So that pretty much wraps it up for 2025, but it's not too early to start collecting for 2026.

You know the motto at Aluminati HQ, "Get your cans to church!"

Metaling in Commercial Success

After the 2000 Super Bowl, everyone was asking, "Wassup?" So wassup for Super Bowl LX?? Aluminum! Before you start watching the game with your buds, drop off your bags of aluminum cans by the west doors February 7-8. The money we raise from aluminum and scrap metal recycling is added to the AOF fund for unexpected expenses.

Communion Bread

Bread Wanted

Are you willing to provide bread for Communion each Sunday. Oh, but you don't bake. No problem, your local bakery does and you can order one loaf of unsliced bread, soft crust and soft inside so it can be torn for serving, but not be crumbly. You can bring it to the Church preferably on Saturday or contact Pat Fisher to make other arrangements. Only one loaf of bread is needed for the 10:00 am Worship Service each week. If you are willing to provide a loaf of bread, please let Pat Fisher know. You can email her at: pmifisher@gmail.com, sign up for one Sunday a month or only periodically.

Volunteers Needed

One vital part of Share the Care is the Transportation Team. These volunteers pick up members who need occasional rides to Church or to medical appointments. Often substitutes are needed to fill in for regular drivers who bring elderly members to Church but have to miss a Sunday or two. Currently there are only five volunteers for this important ministry. If this is something you could do on an occasional basis, call Barbara Klier at 214.476.8911.
