Here's What's Brewing

MUGS IS FOR..

- ~ The single parent searching for an opportunity to network with other single parents
- ~ The recovering addict in need of a safe place to meet with their sponsor or life coach
- ~ The person looking for learning opportunities of various life skills
- ~ The ones searching for family-friendly Friday evening entertainment
- ~ The older adult looking for a place to enjoy a coffee, a chat with friends, or browse the latest family pictures on Facebook
- ~ The individual curious for information about the area's activities and events
- ~ The young adult in need of free access to the Internet
- ~ The tourist looking for healthy meal options from early morning to later in the evening
- ~ Patrons interested in investing their resources in the betterment of their community

Today, PayPal is matching online donations...

TODAY IS: GIVING TUESDAY

"A global generosity movement unleashing the power of people and organizations to transform their communities and the world!"

This event ushers in a season of awareness of the importance of efforts like MUGS, and the need for spaces that can truly connect people with the resources needed to become the best possible versions of themselves.

Even as our story of fund development continues, MUGS' Team is further convinced of the importance of this mission. We hear the stories of area families in crisis, the reports of resources just out of reach, the tales of lives merely scratching the surface of their world-changing potential!

We know we need it!
YOU know we need it!

You can already see the difference MUGS can make in the lives of friends and family today...and for generations to come! THANK YOU!

which makes your gift twice as nice!
There is no better time to give, and every bit moves us closer to our goal!
