ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Single mothers are usually clumped into one unfortunate statistic. There's this unshakable stigma that follows mothers and their kids everywhere they go, lies that threatens your self-worth saying "you're not good enough". We live in a world that thrives on tearing each other down but we want to do the exact opposite. We want to lift you up. We want to empower single mothers that anything is possible with God. Being single is not synonymous with being alone. We want to navigate the treacherous yet rewarding road of single parenthood together. Discover & grow in creative and Spiritual parenting, offer emotional and spiritual support during challenging times, and explore possibilities for Godly dating.
