

Weekly Connector: Time to reset our clocks (fall back 1 hour)!

November 4, 2017

Hello, Church!

It is so great to be home! We were so warmly welcomed last week upon our return and thank God for His amazing provision and grace through the trip to Uganda and from your ongoing support. After the service on Sunday, 6 more children were sponsored! Praise the LORD! Some of you were interested in sponsoring even more! Well done, church!

This is a quick note to remind you to set your clocks back one hour before Sunday morning. Then, because you have that extra hour, please consider joining us for prayer at the altar at 7:30am. There are more of us in this special time of prayer than ever before to bow our heads and hearts before the Father to pray for our church and our communities - especially, praying for our service together at 10:00am. If you can't make it, please pause in your own homes to pray during this time.

This Sunday, we will take up a special offering to support other Churches of God who are leading the effort to recover from hurricanes that swept through the south and east in the last few months. If you would like to help, please come prepared so that we can do what we are able for those who are still recovering!

This week we pick up where we left off before our trip to Uganda as we look at what it means to be the "true worshiper" God seeks. In previous lessons, we have understood that worship is a 24/7 opportunity given to each Christ-follower - and not just on Sunday mornings in the Sanctuary. We also learned that worship is not what we think it is, but is what God says it is!

Our next focus begins with this phrase: True worshipers worship in spirit and in truth. How can a "true worshiper" worship in spirit? This is more important than we think. So, be sure to come early, bring a friend, and let's celebrate Jesus together as we seek to be those "true worshipers" God has called us to be.

But the hour is coming, and is now here, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father is seeking such people to worship him. God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth. John 4:23-24

Looking forward to seeing you on Sunday!

I love you, Church!
