

Weekly Connector: Preparing for those who are loved.

February 24, 2018

Hello, Church!

Sherry and I are back from California after spending a week there visiting our oldest son Lewis, his wife Esme, and their daughter, Keilana. We are so blessed to be their parents and grandparents!

While we were there, I had the job of “child-proofing” the kitchen cabinets and drawers. This minor task has major implications: a little inconvenience for the adults in exchange for increased safety for little Keilana.

In our study on Sunday morning, we continue to look at Psalm 23: “You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies...” In a way, this preventative investment is in part what the Shepherd does for us. He walks on ahead and prepares the Way for us to walk. He shows us the way to avoid unnecessary mishaps. He removes some obstacles while leaving others in place. He presents the food and drink we need through His Word and His Spirit. Moreover, He invites us to be with Him at His table!

What a privilege to be at the table of Christ! To not only be invited but to take Him up on His invitation: to live as He lives, to sacrifice as He leads, and to thrive in the abundant life He has promised (John 10:10b).

Each of us, as we prepare on Saturday for Sunday, have an opportunity to be with our church family to celebrate Jesus - His life, ministry, death, resurrection, and kingdom! Wherever you are, do not miss out on this opportunity. Come as you are, but please come. Jesus has prepared a table for us and we do not want to miss the privilege that it is for all of us.

If you are unable to attend in person, please find some local church offering services and attend there. As always, you can join us at 10:00AM EST on FaceBook!

I love you, Church!
