First Baptist Church Grandview, Texas

May 2025

Greetings church family and warm wishes to each of you this May.

As a mom of three school-age children, this month's calendar is JAM-PACKED! Sporting activities, class parties, field trips, graduation, and more fill the days until before we know it, it's June. As if that wasn't enough, as a church family we will have just wrapped up Holy Week and are looking forward to summer events like VBS, camps, and mission trips to name a few. But there is one day each May that is set aside for a very special purpose: to celebrate mothers.

We use Mother's Day to express our gratitude for the extraordinary women who shape our families, our faith, and our future. It's a day not only for flowers and cards, but an opportunity to recognize the divine role God has given to mothers in His perfect design.

Proverbs 31:28 reminds us: "Her children arise and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praises her." Whether she is a biological mother, a spiritual mentor, an adoptive mom, or a grandmother who has taken on the role, each mother is a blessing and a beacon of God's love.

Scripture is full of examples of faithful mothers we can look to for guidance. Hannah prayed fervently and dedicated her son Samuel to the Lord. Lois and Eunice's faith laid the groundwork for young Timothy's ministry. And Mary, the mother of Jesus, said yes to God with unmatched courage and raised Jesus as his earthly mother. These women reflect the spiritual strength, wisdom, and devotion that so many of our own mothers possess.

Now, before I go any further, please let me clarify that I in no way want to overlook fathers and the IRREPLACEABLE role they have in their children's lives. Fathers offer love, guidance, and support through every stage of growing up. Their presence helps build confidence, teaches resilience, and shows what it means to care deeply for others. But, that's an article for another day...

This month we honor each mother in our congregation. We see your sacrifice, your sleepless nights, your whispered prayers, and your unwavering love. A love that often echoes the unconditional love of Christ—patient, enduring, and full of grace.

Moms, I pray that you find encouragement and continue in the good work God has called you to. Keep sowing seeds of faith, even when the ground seems hard. Keep speaking life, even when your children stray. Keep praying, teaching, and loving—because your labor in the Lord is never in vain (1 Corinthians 15:58). Your impact reaches farther than you know. With every hug, every word of encouragement, and every bedtime prayer, you are building a legacy of faith that will outlast your lifetime. Press on with the strength that only God can provide. Your work matters.

To all mothers, may you feel the deep love of your church family and the even deeper love of your Heavenly Father. Thank you for all that you do and Happy Mother's Day!

Blessings,

Lindsay
