

Darrell's
Notes

Your staff and church remain attentive to the security and safety of our members, as well as those to whom our church ministers. The result is that our staff has decided to establish office benevolence hours. Vagrants, homeless, or others in need will be able to pick up an emergency sack lunch on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2-4 PM beginning this week. This will enable us to better restrict the flow of people in need onto and off of the campus to times when other events, especially those involving families and children, are not scheduled to take place. These sack lunches will remain available to be given out by our security people during service hours to those in need.

I want to personally thank all of you who have called, texted, or emailed saying that you have been praying for your pastor in response to the request I made during the service a few Sundays ago. And thank you to Jack Baynes and those men who have helped him aid me in a project at my house. These men volunteered to serve in this way without being asked. They just saw a need and decided to help me. And they have not asked for any recognition, yet they deserve my heartfelt thanks. These are just examples of the way that our church truly cares for others in their church family. I am so proud of you!

Blessings,
Darrell
