Who was St. Patrick and why do we celebrate March 17th?

March 17 is the day of the death of St. Patrick who was a fifth-century Christian missionary. Born in Britain, he was kidnapped from his home at age 16 by Irish raiders and taken to Ireland as a slave, where he developed a deep faith in Jesus Christ. After 6 years he escaped and went back to Britain where he trained for the ministry. Driven by a conviction that he was called to share Christ with the people who had once held him captive, he returned to Ireland as a bishop.

He was a humble-minded man, always thanking God for using him to help multitudes who had worshipped “idols and unclean things” become “the people of God.” He is famously associated with using the shamrock to explain the Holy Trinity and with the legend of driving all snakes out of Ireland.

“Let every tongue confess that Jesus Christ, in whom we believe and whom we await to come back to us in the near future, is Lord and God.”

*“Christ with me, Christ before me, Christ behind me,
Christ in me, Christ beneath me, Christ above me,
Christ on my right, Christ on my left,
Christ where I lie, Christ where I sit, Christ where I arise.”*
