A message from our Pastors . . .

Jesus was late on two occasions - one when Lazarus died and the other when the disciples were on the Sea of Galilee. Yet, He wasn't really late. It only seemed so.

In Matthew 14, Jesus sent the disciples out to sea at sundown while He went to the mountain to pray. He saw them in the distance, and He knew that they were straining at the oars; yet He did nothing until the fourth watch of the night, which began at 3 a.m. Imagine the fear and fatigue of those men, tossed by the waves, drenched, cold, trying to find land. Jesus knew they could learn about faith in the storm better than the calm, and during the night better than during the day.

And just as on that long-ago night, Jesus will arrive on time to help you during your storm and darkness. Trust His timing...

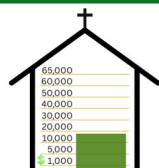

Blessings,
Jerry and Judy
