How happy are those whose way is blameless, who walk according to the law of the Lord! Happy are those who keep His decrees and seek Him with all their hearts. – Psalm 119:1&2

Do you seek happiness, abundance, and contentment? If so, here are some things you should do: Show God and His son you love them, take a stand for God and His righteousness, depend upon His strength, try, to the best of your ability to follow God's leading and not just your own, and read and obey His Word. When you do things, you will come nearer finding happiness that goes hand-in-hand with righteousness. The happiest people are not those who rebel against God or His ways. Happy people love God, obey His commandments, and chose to follow Him all the days of their lives. We may not like what is going on in the world, our community, what we see on the news – but in your heart where God resides there can be peace, happiness the world cannot remove or take away. Put your faith in God and treat each other with respect, you will be happier.

What does this life have in store for you? The world is full of obligations and endless responsibilities that we must fulfill. Included, is a responsible person for your actions, words, and witness. As you get up each morning, remember to celebrate God and the day He made for you, your community, and the nation. The world is not a perfect place, our church members and family members make mistakes – but don't permit such mistakes to take away the gifts God has supplied. Take action as you need to take action to make corrections and give God an opportunity to work. God loves you, honor Him, seek Him, praise Him, share His love, and by His grace. You will be happier!

Perfect obedience would be perfect happiness, if only we had perfect confidence in the power we were obeying. - Corrie ten Boom

Happy are the people whose strength is in You, whose hearts are set on pilgrimage. - Psalm 84:5

How happy is the man who does not follow the advice of the wicked, or take the path of sinners, or join a group of mockers! – Psalm 1:1

We can make happiness disappear, we only need to quit paying attention to God and His ways. To make true happiness last, follow God and His commandments.

I hope you will join me in praying for our community, nation, and the world that we walk in the ways of peace.

Blessings, Rusty
