

QUESTIONS: What happens when we die?

This Sunday's question concerned the issue of what happens when we die.

Do you think most people believe in life after death? If so, do you think they believe in "heaven?"

What do you think many people picture heaven to be like? Where do they get those ideas?

Have you ever heard anyone, who is not a christian, discuss how they think you get to heaven?

Do you think people are receptive to, and interested in, talking about heaven and/or life after death?

Do you know anyone who thinks that death is simply the end and there is nothing after that?

Do you think it is important to think about whether there is life after death and what the Bible says that looks like? If so, why?

Have you previously ever read or studied what the Bible says about this issue?

How can we find hope and encouragement from the Bible's teachings about life after death?

Was there anything in Sunday's sermon that you had not thought about before?

Was there anything in Sunday's sermon that surprised you?

Discuss as a group any other issues that you would like to know about heaven. Share why you would like to know those things.
