Full STEAM Ahead: Oasis Lays New Tracks in Youth Education

The 2017-2018 school year is proving to be a critical juncture in educational programming at Oasis. Due to the support of the Stadler Family Charitable Foundation, we are thrilled to announce that Jessica Egger has come aboard as our new Director of Educational Programs, and will be leading the charge to improve the academic standings of our youth and adult students, with a special emphasis on the Michael Wagner After-School Program.

Over the last two years, Jessica has been developing our STEAM initiative in the After-School Program, as well as improving the academic enhancements of both the After-School and Saturday programs. “Students must be given hands on opportunities to develop skills such as critical thinking, collaboration, and creativity. Utilizing the project-based learning approach inherent in STEAM education empowers students to become solution-driven and prepares them to become college and career ready,” says Jessica. Reflecting on the extracurricular experiences and intervention presented to our After-School students over the past year enables us to see the educational impact that Oasis can have on our youth, and the vast academic potential yet unseen.

With deep gratitude to the generosity of an anonymous donor, Oasis is thrilled to launch the Michael Wagner After-School Academy in the 2017-2018 school year. Identifying areas of academic weakness and providing students with experienced teaching staff will enable Oasis to close the learning gaps common to students in the Paterson School District. We look forward to sharing “erupting” details as the Michael Wagner After-School Academy embarks on this expanded journey!
“One child, one teacher, one book, one pen can change the world.” ~ Malala Yousafzai

We know firsthand how one person, one interaction, can make a difference at Oasis. Often it is one caring person here— one volunteer, one teacher, one social worker, or one staff member—that can ignite hope in a woman or child. We also know that the impact of one compassionate donor—like you—can ignite change, and we see the impact every day. With your help, this past year we have been able to help hundreds of women and children create meaningful futures and, importantly, we have been able to expand our programs in response to the needs of the women and children who turn to us.

This summer, as we take joy in watching the kids in our summer camp “be kids,” we are busy planning for some important changes to our academic programs this fall. We look forward to sharing more about that as we move into the new school year!

At Oasis hope can take many forms, but most often it is realized through many “ones” out there, cheering our women and children onto success. Please know how very grateful we are for the part you play in our mission to change lives—together we are doing great things!

OASIS LEGACY SOCIETY

The staff and board of directors of Oasis are pleased to announce the launch of the Oasis Legacy Society, a group of dedicated Oasis supporters, committed to the long-term sustainability of our organization.

There are many ways you too can help women and children break the cycle of poverty while maximizing your personal charitable objectives and minimizing your after-tax cost.

We ask that you consider joining the Legacy Society through a planned gift to Oasis. Two easy ways include:

- Bequests—Through your estate or retirement plan, you can provide general support to Oasis or fund a program for women and children that is important to you. Just name Oasis as a beneficiary of your will or plan.

- Deferred gifts—Oasis can also accept various deferred gifts, such as charitable remainder trusts, through a partnership with the Community Foundation of New Jersey.

Don’t know where to begin? Please contact Kathleen Long, Director of Development, at (973) 881-8307 x105 or kathleenlong@oasisnj.org for a list of estate attorneys and financial professionals who can guide you through the process of changing the lives of women and children in need through planned giving.
