SHORT-TERM MINISTRY APPLICATION

Covenant of Understanding Regarding Personal Safety

In participating in short-term missions, I understand that many difficulties and dangers are involved with serving the Lord in ministry. Persons serving in short-term missions acknowledge that any assignment may involve one or several of the following:

Threats of violence and/or violence done to self, family, or others.

Injury and/or death.

Unlawful arrest, false accusations, imprisonment, denial of rights as a foreign citizen, exposure to many forms of disease.

Kidnapping and extortion of self, family, or others. (In these cases, it is understood that GBIM will use ethical and peaceful means to secure the release of any detained person, but without the payment of ransom demands or engagement in political bargaining).

Emotional distress and/or trauma.

These represent a sample of the various types of dangers and risk a participant in short term missions may face. No place in the world is free from such risks, but participants should be especially aware of these possibilities as they consider making commitments to serving Christ. As it is not within anyone's ability to predict or prevent the difficulties or dangers experienced on an assignment, the undersigned agrees to accept full responsibility for his or her decision to participate, and will not hold the sending congregation, or General Baptist International Ministries, liable for any emotional or physical injury incurred during service.
