the book of JAMES

A blueprint to living out the Christian Life

As a distinctive book in the New Testament, the epistle of James emphasizes the necessity of actions consistent with our beliefs and convictions. Reminiscent of the wisdom literature of the Old Testament, this letter encourages God's people to act like God's people—inviting us to see faith as a verb and not a noun.

Join us for this 5-week study of seeing, acting, hearing, speaking, enduring, doing, submitting, loving, forbearing, healing, and praying led by Rev. Teresa Mc Roberts

Rev. Teresa K. McRoberts is the founder and Executive Director of Jubilee Ministries, dedicated to teaching about the Christian Life, promoting community conversation around difficult topics, and empowering people become better faith leaders.

Before founding Jubilee Ministries, Rev. McRoberts served as a pastor at three churches in Richmond, Virginia over a period of 10 years. She received her M. Div. degree from Union Presbyterian Seminary and her undergraduate degree from Duke University. In between, she earned her law degree and practiced law before hearing and responding to God's call to professional ministry.

Rev. McRoberts preaches, teaches, consults, counsels, officiates weddings and funerals, and is intentionally present with people in times of trauma or transition as she promotes renewal and reconciliation among people and between people and God.
