Everything is a Process

by: Pastor Jason

As the days of summer vacation fade, students are returning to school with an anticipation of making new friends, learning new things, and finding satisfaction as they proceed through their educational years. Kindergarteners are now big first graders. Former 8th-grade middle schoolers are now entering High School. Incoming seniors are preparing for some significant adult decisions.

For most students, there's an excitement about what will be. Sure, there's also usually some hesitancy that accompanies that excitement. Still, students proudly announce their new grade level, and relish the opportunities to advance in sports, arts, practical skills, or wherever they're interests lie.

As adults, we sit back and marvel at their growth. We ask rhetorical questions, like "How did they get so tall?" "Where did they learn that?" "What happened to that baby I used to hold in my arms?" Although we mourn how quickly the days have passed, we're excited for them as they continue the ongoing process of personal development.

As adults, let's consider a similar question. When was the last time we were excited about our continued growth as believers? When was the last time we enthusiastically embraced our own process of ongoing development?

This month at Hope Church, we'll begin a teaching series called 'God's Creative Process.' It's largely influenced by the writings of our assistant superintendent of the Assemblies of God, Rick DuBose. The most significant thing we'll learn is that it's our responsibility to cooperate with the Holy Spirit in His process of developing our spiritual growth and increasing our maturity. Just like students in the classroom need to cooperate with their teachers to master the material presented to them, we must cooperate with the Holy Spirit to benefit from the personal growth opportunities that come our way.

So, let's ask ourselves this question: Are we excited for the opportunities to learn and grow spiritually? Are we valuing the opportunity to look more like Jesus in our thoughts and actions each and every day? Does opening the Word of God excite us? Does spending extended time in prayer sound increasingly appealing? If not, perhaps there is an obstacle to our process that needs to be submitted to the sovereignty of God.

The Holy Spirit longs to transform us into the image of Jesus. Our responsibility is to yield to the process! I hope you'll join us on this journey for the next several weeks. I genuinely believe it will be life-changing!

Be blessed!

LOVE. GROW. SERVE.

As a church family, we're on a mission to love people into a life-changing relationship with Jesus. That's why we're deeply committed to passionately loving God and other people, constantly growing to maturity in our faith, and diligently serving the community around us. That's our DNA.

STUDENT PRAYER POINTS for August

Throughout the school year, you'll receive a monthly email with Student Prayer Points—specific ways to pray for our school communities, including local schools, students, faculty, staff, and board members. Here are this month's prayer points:

1. In-service days: Please be praying for faculty and staff as they meet for these inservice days. Pray that God gives them the wisdom and knowledge needed to teach throughout the year with excitement and clarity so that students can learn and be successful, both inside and outside of the classroom.

2. First Day of School: The school year resumes on August 4th. Please be in prayer for a great start to the school year, that our campuses would be safe, that the presence of the Holy Spirit would be evident, and especially for our PreK and Kindergarten students to have a smooth transition as they start school.

If you'd like to commit to praying for a specific student (or students), sign-ups for Student Prayer Adoption are coming soon!

KINGDOM Builders

from neighborhoods to nations

Cambodia 2025

This month's Kingdom Builders highlight is a special one! On August 10th, we'll hear from members of our own church family who recently returned from missions trips to Cambodia and Kenya. They'll share what they did and how the experience impacted both their teams and the people they served. Whether you've prayed, given, or are considering going in the future, come be encouraged by what God is doing through Kingdom Builders around the world—and thank you for being a part of it!
