1 Corinthians 15:50-58, “Final Victory,” September 27, 2026, Kevin Stuhlmann

*Main Point: Christ's final victory over death will manifest in our resurrection, so persevere.

1. Ecclesiastes says that God “has put eternity into man’s heart.” In today’s society, what evidence (desires, practices, attitudes, etc.) do we see of a longing for immortality? How can we use this in evangelism?
2. Read 1 Corinthians 15:50-58. Looking at verse 50 and other biblical truth, why is radical change necessary to inherit the kingdom of God?
3. What various descriptions do verses 51-53 give about our coming resurrection/transformation? Why a trumpet? What does 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18 add to the picture?
4. What do verses 54-55 say about the connection between our resurrection and Christ’s victory? How is our transformation a sign or proof of his triumph?

5. How is sin the “sting” of death (v. 56)? How does the law provide the “power” for sin (you may want to look at Romans 4-7)?
6. Verse 57 says God “gives us the victory” (present tense). We live in the “now but not yet.” In what ways do we experience the “now” of victory? In what ways will we experience the “not yet” of victory?
7. How do you feel as a result of reading this passage? How does all of chapter 15 lead to the “therefore” exhortations of verse 58?
8. In what ways do you specifically need to persevere in Christian life and ministry? Why is this “not in vain”?
9. What other comments, questions, or personal applications do you have from this passage?
