Luke 6:46

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

What a powerful statement by our Lord isn't it? Are we truly willing to do everything He says at any time He asks? The first quarter always starts out a little slower than the others. I purposefully plan it that way. The time after the New Year is always a reflecting time for me. I reflect on all that God has done within His ministry here in Mallow, Ireland and all that He has done within our family and myself. This year, like no other, God has burdened my heart to reach all those around me with the Gospel of our Lord. This weight upon my heart has been so heavy at times it's brought me to tears. The hardness of the hearts of the people we are trying to reach has caused me to cry out asking God to show me how the fields are ready for harvest. It's amazing to me how God will use a willing soul for His honor and glory. Question: Do you believe God can use you? He can and He will if we just listen and obey. After all He is using a mere Pipe Fitter as myself here in Ireland.

In January God stirred me in such a way that I felt that I needed to do more. Not more programming but more praying, more reaping, more intimate conversations with those that I have been building relationships with and more relying on Him and less on me. I found myself asking Him to use me in this hardened place to reach one person a month for Him. I have been praying that the Lord would show me that the harvest is truly plentiful.

February came and almost went by and I have to say that I really didn't think that I would be able to come through on my end of the deal this month. I was wondering where I may have missed an opportunity or overlooked where He may have been working.

Well let me tell you we serve an awesome and mighty God! I was asked to speak at another church's bible study. The Bible Study was held in Charleville and I was able to lead a woman to the Lord. It was her first time coming and she felt compelled to do so. That was on the last day of the month, at probably the latest part of the day.

In March God once again gave me an opportunity as Denise and I walked into town. As we walked I expressed that I loved just to walk into town to talk with people we see. We casually bumped into a woman we met through a friend and I invited her to church the following Sunday. She came and after the service she said it was as if I was talking directly to her. I explained it wasn't me but the Holy Spirit working. That week I followed up with an invitation to have coffee and talk about Jesus and she accepted. Over coffee I shared the gospel with her and asked her if she understood and she nodded, bowed her head and accepted Christ as her saviour. We are looking forward to the next quarter and the rest of this year with anticipation on what the Lord is going to do here in Mallow, Ireland.
