

CELL PHONE CONTRACT

I WANT TO HAVE FREEDOM to make my own choices while using my cell phone. My parents want to trust me to make great choices with my cell phone.

In order to earn trust and earn freedom:

WE AGREE...

- That having a cell phone is a privilege and not a right.
- That my phone will not be charged in my room at night, but another place in the house.
- That I will stay within the monthly texting and calling limits of my cell provider's service plan.
- That since my parents are paying for my phone, they have a right to read the texts and contacts on my phone at any time.
- That when I am in a conversation with a person or participating in a family event, I will not use my phone.
- That I won't use my cell phone while I am driving.
- That if I receive an inappropriate message from someone on my phone, I will show my parents and ask for their help deciding what to do next.
- That if I'm asked to turn off my cell phone by my parents, I will do it without complaining.
- That if I lose or break my cell phone, I will be responsible for replacing it or fixing it.
- That I will follow any rules my school has regarding phones.

CELL PHONE CONTRACT

IF I MAKE THESE GREAT CHOICES...

I earn more freedom, and my parents commit to trusting me with my cell phone. Cell phones are for communication, fun and should be used to glorify God. We pray you use it to do this well.

IF I DON'T MAKE THESE GREAT CHOICES...

I will face the consequences of losing the privilege of my phone for an amount of time set by my parents.
