COURAGE TO CHANGE

Courage to Change had a surprise Thursday June 21. We were blessed with 3 speakers from the Recovery Point in Parkersburg. Justin our scheduled guest speaker brought Adam and Travis with him. Each man told his story of addiction, recovery and hope. Justin told how he grew up in a church with a religious family, but still turned to alcohol and drugs to fill the void in his life. After going to 16 rehabilitation programs and treatment centers he realized only God could fill the void. He came to the Recovery Point in Parkersburg, went to the Warehouse Church, was baptized and now attends there and volunteers in the community. He is due to be released from parole in a week. Adam had a similar story of growing up in a religious family in Cabel county WV, but got involved with Meth and other drugs. He overdosed 4 times and was pronounced dead for 15-20 minutes. He was in ICU in St. Mary's hospital. He was discharged from the military for drug use, but now is in the Recovery Point program. He too recognizes God is the answer. Travis is one of the supervisors at the Recovery Point. He has been through the program in Huntington and is now working with the program in Parkersburg. Recovery Point is a non-profit facility supported by grant money. There is no charge for the program. Recovery Point in Parkersburg is associated with several other recovery facilities in other states like South Carolina and Tennessee. The clients are accepted by phone or court order. It is a very structured program from detox to rehabilitation. They are involved in many community projects saying "we took from the community (literally money), now we want to pay back."

LOVE IN ACTION

Love in Action continues to help others with bills. We have helped a homeless mother, living in a tent this week with food and a blow up mattress. We are also now working with the homeless coalition in Parkersburg and hope to get her into an apartment soon with the help she needs. We will be providing supplies to the coalition in the future and hopefully be able to help more homeless in our community. Sometimes it seems there is little we can do, but the fired up life is about waking up every morning and knowing that you were born for this day. May we all begin each day more passionate than ever, full of vision, full of faith, full of love, full of hope, full of purpose, full of zeal, and full of dreams, willing to pick up more spiritual passion as we do the Lord's work. May we all know no greater thrill than running our race with our eyes fixed on Jesus. He is so worthy of our all!
