

COUNSELOR-IN-TRAINING PROGRAM 2018

WHAT IS A CIT?

A counselor-in-training (CIT) is a camper who wants to receive training to serve in a future position as a counselor at Camp Dixie. They attend a weekend training session, complete assignments, and, if chosen after training, will be given the opportunity to serve this summer for one or more weeks alongside an experienced camp counselor. This program is designed to mature teens in areas of leadership development, teamwork and to provide spiritual mentoring in a Christian environment.

CIT's are not compensated financially for their service, but are eligible to receive written documentation of volunteer hours served upon request. We provide annual written feedback on critical areas of leadership development, making us a helpful resource for references on college and job applications. Camp Dixie does not employ counselors who are under the age of 18.

CIT SERVICE CORPS

A specific number of CIT's will develop their leadership skills by working in service positions. In the Service Corps, CIT's will have the opportunity to be mentored in other areas of camp service such as: kitchen, store and recreation. They will still be assigned to a cabin group as their default group when other responsibilities have been completed. The CIT Service Corp will give teens additional opportunities to learn about their strengths and gain a much broader view of the ministry of summer camp. Our hope is that every CIT will have the opportunity to serve as a member of the Service Corps for at least one camp session during their high school years.
