

KETTLEBROOK

A Family of Followers of Jesus Helping Others Follow Jesus

262-365-0980 | kettlebrook.org

Week of January 16, 2022

Scripture for Sunday, January 16: Mark 10:29-31

Kettlebrook Messages: Kettlebrook Website YouTube

Perspectives

Wednesdays 6-8:30 pm
1/19—5/11

One of the best learning opportunities for finding your place in God's plan is coming right to your front door. Perspectives, a world class course designed to show how every believer has a part to play in the story of the world, is being hosted by Kettlebrook this spring. Perspectives is for anyone that wants to walk closer with the Lord, gain a deeper understanding of His ultimate purpose in the world, strategically invest their lives, and gain insight and direction that will help them to impact the world.

Learn more and sign up here:
tinyurl.com/3pffa3fs

Parent-Child Dedication

Sunday, 3/6

Parent-Child dedication is a public statement of commitment to raising your child for God's honor and glory.

West Bend site: Classes will be held on 2/6 and 2/20 in the Senior Center Craft Room during the 9:00 am Gathering.

Jackson site: Contact Ryan LaTour for information regarding classes.

Click here for more information
Click here to sign up

TBRI Parenting/Childcare Class at the Family Center

Wednesdays 6—8 pm
2/2—3/2

Trust Based Relational Intervention is an approach to loving and caring for children of all ages based on brain research and experience. TBRI was created to help care for children who have come from hard places but the principles apply to all children. While the class information is not religious based, the principles are all Biblical and modeled by Jesus. If you are a parent or caregiver of children we encourage you to join us for five Wednesday evenings at the Washington County Family Center. Kim Mundinger and Jen Schroeder will be teaching the classes. To sign up, please call the Family Center at 262-338-9461. If you have questions please contact Kim Mundinger at the Kettlebrook office or email at ksmundinger@gmail.com.