

No matter how uncertain the times may be, we don't have to feel hopeless. Hope is something bigger than us and our circumstances.

Our experiences on earth may leave us feeling insecure and overwhelmed, but God assures us that peace and stability will someday reign. Not only that, but we have a promise that our hearts can be a peace despite whatever storm rages around us.

Have you experienced a storm in your life that threatened your hope? What did you do? How was your hope restored. How are you struggling? Would you be willing to share your story with other earth-bound sisters searching for hope? The theme of our next issue of Women's Spectrum is "Where's your hope?" We are looking for stories such as:

1. What false hope/s have you depended on?
2. How do you lead other people to find hope?
3. How has the Holy Spirit given you hope?
4. What gives you hope in your unstable world?
5. When was a time you were able to give someone hope? How did they respond?
6. Describe a time someone offered you hope.
7. Describe a time when you lost hope and found it again.
8. What lies have you had to fight as you cling to hope?

9. How have you found hope in times of suffering?
10. What makes it hard to believe there's hope at times?
11. What do you do when someone tries to kill your hope? How do you keep it from happening?
Have you been a hope killer?
12. How do you keep believing when no one else does?
13. What practical actions do you take to lay a foundation for hope?
14. What practical things help you stay hopeful?

All articles should be submitted by February 28, 2021. Please see guidelines below:

WOMEN'S SPECTRUM Writer's Guidelines

PURPOSE

Women's Spectrum is an annual magazine for Claris Fellowship women offering practical biblical encouragement and inspiration, while promoting community, cross-generational relationships, global vision and the application of biblical theology to daily life.

READERS

Women's Spectrum readers are generally Claris Fellowship women, from new believers to seasoned ministry leaders. They represent a diverse demographic, including age, culture, ethnicity, life stages, location, and church expression.

EDITORIAL NEEDS

We are looking for articles related to the specific theme of each issue that are personal, practical and transformational. The only qualification is life experience and a passion to write about it! Articles should be written in a comfortable, conversational tone, full of real-life anecdotes and appropriate emotion. We want to feel your heart as you share with us part of your spiritual journey or that of another sister in Christ whose life has touched your own. Don't worry about length. Share your story from your heart—we'll take care of the editing. We do reserve the right to edit articles as needed to fit the space available or to comply with the editorial standards of Women's Spectrum. We are also willing to consider submissions of poetry or short fiction.

SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

1. Quoted material must be properly documented (source, publisher, date, and page numbers) along with permission verification and a photocopy of the original quote.
2. Statistics or factual information which the public would not normally know need to be properly documented along with a photocopy of the information.
3. Include Biblical reference and version when using Scripture in your article.
4. Include two blurbs or pull quotes that will quickly draw the reader into your article.

5. When possible include 1-3 bullet points of practical ideas, practical/quick tips, or personal application, suggestions, Web sites, books, further resources that apply to your article that can be placed in a sidebar. The sidebar provides helpful information that the reader will value.
6. Articles MUST be accompanied with a brief biography in order to be considered for submission. Your biography should only be a few sentences, telling us about your family, ministry involvement and special interests or passions.
7. Include a photo of yourself. You may also include photos related to the article. They MUST be high quality, digital photos taken at the highest resolution. If digital photos are unavailable, please mail us a good quality printed photo that can be scanned, along with a return address.
8. Include your name, mailing address (in order to receive your complimentary issue), email address and the name of your home church. This is NOT for publication, but for the purpose of contacting you regarding your article.
9. All submissions must be sent by email.
10. Submit articles as an attachment (MS Word preferred), NOT in the body of the email to: Spectrum@wgusa.org.

THE PROCESS

- All articles will be reviewed by the Spectrum Editorial Team.
- ALL submissions are appreciated, but not all submissions will be published. We are honored that you are willing to share your story with us and acknowledge the hard work and vulnerability behind each story we read.
- We will notify you by email upon receiving your submission as well as if your article is selected for publication.
- By submitting an article to Women's Spectrum, you are giving permission to the Editorial Team to make any changes we deem appropriate. However, if more than routine copy editing is necessary, we will notify you and allow you to review the changes before publication.
- By submitting an article to Women's Spectrum, you are also giving permission for your article to be archived and made available via our website.
- We are unable to provide financial compensation for your article; however, you will receive a complimentary copy of the issue in which your article appears.

Thank you. We hope you are as blessed in the writing as we will be in the reading.
