

Why We Remember

DISCUSSION GUIDE | May 24, 2026

BIG IDEA

Paul's letters are designed to be community applications of Jesus' command to love one another

Scripture reading: Acts 1:5, Acts 2: 1-13 NIV

Humans have established annual events to exist as reminders for thousands of years. The ancient people of Israel had feasts, and today we have holidays. If we forget what's been done for us, we may lose sight of what can be done through us. Establishing a pattern of remembering and making room for the Spirit makes us more attentive to where it is calling us to love.

1. Why do you think establishing annual events for remembrance has been a long-standing human tradition?
2. How do we fall "out of tune" with the suggestion of the Holy Spirit?
3. What in your life right now is preventing you from having silent time with the Holy Spirit?
4. What does it feel like to you when the Holy Spirit gives you a "nudge"?
5. What do you personally need to practice to attentive the "nudges" when they occur?

THIS WEEK'S CHALLENGE

This week, find a solitary place and practice listening.
