Every culture has some way of marking the passing of time. Seconds, minutes, hours, days, weeks, months, years, and so on. How people mark the passing of time says something about who they are. For example, while technically summer begins at the summer solstice and ends at the fall equinox, we often mark summer from Memorial Day weekend to Labor Day. However, if an Englishman asked an American when summer begins and ends and the American said, "From Memorial Day to Labor Day," chances are that the Englishman would likely not know the points of reference. These two holidays are American and not British.

Historically the Christian Church has had its own calendar and marked the year accordingly. Christmas, Easter, Ascension, Pentecost, and the other days and seasons of the year are the way the Church has marked the passing of time. At the time of the Reformation, there was quite a lot of conflict within our own Reformed tradition about how time would be marked. On one side were the Puritans who refused to observe any day other than Sunday as the Lord's Day, arguing that things like Advent and Lent (and Christmas and Easter) were not "biblical" nor were they commanded by Scripture to be observed. Other Reformed Protestants simplified the Church Year, retaining days like Christmas, Good Friday, Easter, Ascension, and Pentecost, calling them the "Evangelical Feast Days." By this, they meant that these days ought to be celebrated because they recalled and marked Gospel events, events at the center of the Gospel story, and so worthy of commemoration. Lutherans and Anglicans retained even more of the traditional Church Calendar, though they did curtail the number of feast days and seasons from the medieval Roman Catholic calendar.

Over time, however, even those churches, influenced by the Puritan rejection of all feast days other than the weekly Lord's Day, found "special" days creeping into the Church's calendar. I grew up in a tradition where there was little observance of the Church year (with the exception of Christmas, Easter, and Pentecost). But in the meantime, in our "conservative" congregation, other days crept in: Mother's Day, Father's Day, Memorial Day, the Fourth of July. These were days from the secular calendar. Over time, people simply assumed, without much reflection, that these days should be celebrated, even as these same folks would have condemned Lent and Advent for being "unbiblical". Indeed, I remember churches whose Fourth of July Celebrations dwarfed anything that they did on Easter!

While the days of the Church Year remain something for ongoing conversation among and within various Christian denominational traditions, they are helpful ways of marking time, of giving time another, a deeper, meaning than simply what the secular calendar gives. We have just come through the celebration of Easter. The late spring brings us three days that all too often are forgotten. Ascension Day falls this year on Thursday, May 9 (forty days after Easter), which we and many churches recognize the following Sunday. On this day the Church marks the Ascension of our Lord into heaven after he had completed his work of redemption on earth. The Sunday following Ascension Sunday is Pentecost, when the Holy Spirit fell upon the apostles and the ancient Church. The Sunday following Pentecost is Trinity Sunday, a day designated as a celebration of one of the central and essential doctrines of Christian faith, the doctrine of the Trinity. While one might object that every Sunday is Trinity Sunday (which is true, given that the Triune God is worshiped and celebrated every Lord's Day), the same could be said for Christmas and Easter. Every Lord's Day we celebrate the reality of the Incarnation and the Resurrection of Jesus Christ.

But it is a helpful thing to have these days, to mark them, and to celebrate them. At the very least, they remind us that as Christians we live by something more than the secular calendar. Time, our time, has been invaded and claimed by God in Jesus Christ. So let us "keep time" together, Sunday by Sunday, throughout the whole year.

Grace and Peace,
Pastor Walter L. Taylor

Choir Director

What a blessing to direct the OIEPC choir - a fun and talented group, dedicated to leading in worship and praising our Lord and Savior! When I started conducting here in 2022, I was mentored by the very talented Lynne Barmore, who selflessly served as the director. When Kent and I moved to Oak Island we were instantly taken with this congregation, the preaching of the Word, and the music program. I have sung in church choirs since I was four years old, and lettered in choral music in high school. I studied voice in college and have a minor in opera performance, but got my degree in Business, enjoying my career and singing, directing church choirs for over 45 years.

We would love to have you join us!

This is the sweetest, most non-judgmental group I've ever worked with.

And do we ever have fun!

Come talk to me if you'd like to give the choir a try.

It's easier than you think!

donna.winrich@gmail.com

We moved to OKI in 2021 and I wanted to be a part of the worship service. I have sung with choirs for 10 years and enjoy being a Bass. Since I was 12, I love music, particularly brass instruments. I played jazz and classical, primarily on the trombone. I also enjoyed playing French horn, baritone and tuba.

Joining the OIEPC choir can get you over your fear of performing, and free you up to just enjoy the music and worship! You don't have to be a virtuoso. Choir practice is a fun and welcome break in the middle of my work week.

“FRIDAY!
It's time to get your happy on,,

Saturday turn your magic on

We are getting close to our 2024 Church Retreat at Fort Caswell Retreat Center! If you signed up to come, we hope you are as excited as we are! We will have a great time together!

The retreat will start on Friday evening at 6:00 pm with a Potluck Dinner in the Chapel Annex, our headquarters during the retreat. Bring a favorite dish to share! We did this during our last church retreat (pre-COVID) and we all had a feast! After dinner we will have a time of worship together, followed by some fun activities to get to know each other better. Expect lots of laughter! We will not be running around for these games, so don't worry if you are not as sure-footed as you used to be!

Afterwards there will be time until 9:00 pm to sit around and chat if you want to. We will not spend the night at Fort Caswell, but will return to our own homes for a good night sleep before the Saturday program.

On Saturday, we will start bright and early, at 7:30 am, with breakfast together at the Cafeteria on the Retreat grounds. There is parking available at the cafeteria. At noon, we will have lunch at the cafeteria as well. After breakfast, we will have a time of worship in our building. During the day there will be various planned activities, including a tour of the Fort and the Batteries. Word has it we have been assigned the best tour guide! For the tour they will use a trailer for us to ride on, so you will not have to walk all over the grounds. There will also be plenty of free time to explore the gorgeous retreat grounds, to go to the store (PX) if it is open, to walk on the beach, or to find a rocking chair and relax! We will finish the day at 4:30 pm with a closing worship time.

We have had wonderful retreats before at Fort Caswell. The grounds are beautiful and a great place to relax. This whole retreat will be focused on spending time as a church family, worshipping together, sharing meals together, enjoying fun and interesting activities together, and of course, relaxing! If we happen to have rainy weather, we have alternative activities planned.

If you signed up for the retreat, you will receive more detailed information at the beginning of April. We look forward to spending time with you!

See you there!

ADULT SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sundays @ 9:15

Disciples Room

Led By:

Pastor Walter L. Taylor

It is widely believed that the doctrine of election or predestination is an oddity of Calvinism and the Reformed/Presbyterian Churches. The reality is different however. This doctrine first appeared in the Bible itself. The 5th century bishop and theologian, Augustine worked out the doctrine in the early church; all the medieval theologians and major Reformers held it; and it is also written into the creeds of Episcopalian and Lutheran churches. Nowadays, the doctrine of election or predestination raises many questions. What is it? What does it mean? What does the Bible say about election or predestination?

During six weeks we will join RC Sproul as he carefully explores what predestination actually is, and explains the meaning of God's sovereignty in the work of redemption and shows how it relates to the will of man. During each session we will watch a video and then we will have time for questions and discussion. RC Sproul is an engaging speaker, and he explains things in a way that is easy to follow, but not at all simplistic, so plan on joining us!

If you have lost a loved one or loved ones, you know that grief is a difficult and painful process. Our GriefShare Support Group is for people like you, dealing with the death of a family member or friend. GriefShare provides a safe, welcoming place where you will be among people who understand the difficult emotions of grief. Over 13 weeks, you will find relief and comfort as you learn what to expect in the days ahead and how to navigate your personal grief process. Since there are no neat, orderly stages of grief, you will learn helpful ways of coping with grief, in all its unpredictability – and gain solid support each step of the way.

Topics include how to manage grief-related emotions such as:

Loneliness, anxiety, sadness, anger, regret; how to cope with the changes in your life and relationships, how to recognize what is normal in grief and what to do if you feel stuck or hopeless.

At a weekly meeting, you will view a video featuring respected counselors, teachers, and healthcare professionals on grief-related topics. Afterwards, we have time for sharing, support, and personal application of what you learned in the video. You will receive a book to take home filled with valuable exercises for navigating your personal grieving process. There is a $20.00 fee for the GriefShare book.

GriefShare is led by facilitators Walter and Agnes Taylor, and Allison Pickard. If you have any questions, feel free to contact Agnes Taylor at 910-278-9741 or go to Griefshare.org. To register for the group, go to GriefShare.org, locate our church through "Find a Group," and our church's group will pop up. Click on our group and it will give you all our information, plus a button to register for our group. Once we have accepted your registration, you will be able to access lots of useful information on the GriefShare website. You will also be able to watch the video of the previous Sunday in case you missed that day, or you would like to see it again. You can sign up for comforting daily emails and find many helpful articles.

Oak Island EPC

You-Night! (Unite!)

Saturday Evening, May 11

6:30 to 8:30pm, Fellowship Hall

You-Night! will be two hours of compelling, amusing, delightful, and intriguing stories from among our Oak Island EPC members and regular attenders! We've heard many great stories one-on-one; so we thought what could be better than to share all the intrigue with one another?

We are looking for twenty individuals to tell a personal or human-interest story; perhaps an uncommon circumstance or happening, a predicament, an adventure, a historical event, a conversion experience, anything unique that you could share with all of us.

5 minutes maximum! So we are looking for quick, concise content. (Anyone going over five minutes be denied access to the dessert table! :)

We will orchestrate the evening to be fast-paced, but also informal, casual and fun. To enhance the storytelling, we'll project supplemental photos up front (where possible). We'll have an array of extraordinary desserts. And we'll have drawings for two door prizes (sure to be appreciated by anyone!)

We are aiming to have a total attendance of at least 50 congregants. So even if you do not participate in the storytelling, come and join in for a good time of fellowship and getting to know the folks around you! (We'll finish for sure by 8:30pm.)

Why are we having this event?

- That our hearts may be encouraged, "knit together" in love. Colossians 2
- Let us consider how to stir up one another to love & good works. Hebrews 10
- To have unity of mind, sympathy, brotherly love, tender hearts. Philippians 2

To participate with a story, contact either Agnes Taylor or Charles Bogardus. (Our contact information is in the church directory.)

We will have sign-up sheets for dessert the week prior to You-Night!

WHAT CAN YOU DO TO SUPPORT OUR CHILDREN'S MINISTRY?

No, we do not have children in the Nursery or in Children's Church every Sunday, but whenever we do we want to be able to welcome them with open arms and provide a safe space for them! We need YOUR help to provide this important ministry to children and their families!

Sign up to help in the NURSERY a couple of Sundays! There is an orange sign-up sheet on the small bulletin board right next to the Nursery. Pick a Sunday and sign up! You will assist our Nursery provider Keena Knox. She will take care of picking up kids and changing diapers, so you can simply enjoy them!

Or how about assisting with CHILDREN'S CHURCH? We have three teachers in place, plus two assistants which means we only need one more assistant to complete the team!!!!

Our Children's Church teams use a rotating schedule. Each team is prepared to lead Children's Church two Sundays in a row and is then four Sundays off. Team members are always able to switch Sundays if needed. Assistants do not have to prepare anything, but provide assistance where needed, while fulfilling the requirement to have two adults (18 and older) present at any children's ministry.

Do you want more information? Are you willing to fill that LAST Children's Church spot? Contact our Assistant Pastor, Agnes Taylor, at 910-278-9741 and she will be happy to talk to you.

Functions as a safety net for members and regular attenders of OIEPC who need emergency assistance. For example, overdue rent or mortgage payments or utility bills for those who are facing eviction, foreclosure, or cutoff due to a short-term situation that has impacted the ability to pay. Through contributions to Southport Oak Island Interchurch Fellowship, the Human Needs Program also assists homeless families with locating shelter, providing counseling, finding employment, and managing expenses. Many families receiving help through the Human Needs Program are living below the poverty level.

Recent disbursements from the Human Needs Program included:
$2,000: November 2023, Southport Oak Island Interchurch Fellowship
$2,090: January 2024, assistance for members of OIEPC

Human Needs Program

The current balance in the Human Needs Account is $2,424.74. The Stewardship and Finance Committee recommends maintaining a balance of between $4,000 and $5,000.

Please consider the Human Needs Program when making contributions to OIEPC.
