1 Samuel 3

1. 1 Samuel 3:3 mentions that “The lamp of God had not yet gone out”, which suggests the story takes place just before daylight broke. Have you ever had a season of life where it seemed like the darkest days came just before a sign of hope?
2. Samuel listens to both God and Eli in this passage. Eli gives good advice to Samuel. How do we know how to differentiate between what is good and godly advice and what is not?
3. God’s word is meant to inform and to form us. We see Samuel go from a child to prophet for a nation in verses 19-20. What role does the word of God, which never changes, have in our ever-changing lives?
