From Timothy Keller — “Paul’s Prayer: Part One,” Redeemer Presbyterian Church.

Daniel Steele, “Love Enthroned—A Year with the Comforter”

“Almost every week, and sometimes every day, the pressure of His great love comes down upon my heart in such measure as to make my brain throb and my whole being, soul and body, groan beneath the strain of the almost insupportable plethora of joy...He has unlocked every apartment of my being, and filled and flooded them all with the light of His radiant presence.”

William R. Moody, “The Life of D.L. Moody”

“Well, one day, in the city of New York—oh, what a day!—I cannot describe it, I seldom refer to it; it is almost too sacred an experience to name... I can only say that God revealed Himself to me, and I had such an experience of His love that I had to ask Him to stay His hand.”

Charles H. Spurgeon, “The Glorious Love of the Father”

“Some of us know at times what it is to be almost too happy to live! The love of God has been so overpoweringly experienced by us on some occasions, that we have almost had to ask for a stay of the delight because we could not endure any more. If the glory had not been veiled a little, we should have died of excess of rapture, or happiness.”

Blaise Pascal, “Memorial”

FIRE.

God of Abraham, God of Isaac, God of Jacob

Not of philosophers nor of the scholars.

Certitude. Certitude. Feeling. Joy, Peace.

God of Jesus Christ,

My God and thy God.

“Thy God shall be my God.”

Forgetfulness of the world and of everything, except God.

He is to be found only by the ways taught in the Gospel.

Greatness of the soul of man.

“Righteous Father, the world hath not know thee,

but I have know thee.”

Joy, joy, joy, tears of joy.
