Have you ever thought of leading a small group?

We would love to talk with you! While Springfield First already has many ongoing classes and groups, we seek more group offerings in 2019. Being a great small group leader does not require long hours; it does not require you to be a person who knows all the answers or has extensive Bible knowledge; nor does it even require prior experience. It simply requires a desire to bring a group of people together to grow in loving God, building community, and unleashing compassion. Lent 2019 gives us a great opportunity to launch new small groups. We would love for you to consider leading one. Those interested can contact Pastor Justin Snider (jsnider@springfieldfirst.org or 793-9760) to begin this journey.

Summer internship opportunities for college students who are majoring in church related vocations are available. Opportunities are limited. Application submitted does not guarantee acceptance. For further information contact Executive Director, Lana Salomonson, at the church office.
