

October 2025 Newsletter

General News

With the onset of cool fall weather there is an increased number of jackets, hats and sweaters. Please label all outdoor clothing with your child's name. It is a great help.

October is Fire Prevention Month

Each class will be having fire drills and discussions of fire safety.

The Ladybugs are Coming

Our shipment of ladybugs will arrive soon. Each classroom has a ladybug home and we will observe and study ladybugs. They eat aphids and are very helpful to the farmer.

School Pictures

The children will have their school pictures taken on November 6th & 7th

BACKPACK DO'S & DON'TS

Backpacks are mainly used to send papers home. It is important to monitor what your child has in their backpack since they are hung up in an area that is accessible to all children.

What to pack:

- Snack, water bottle and lunch if applicable

What NOT to pack:

- Money
- Hand sanitizer
- Medications of any kind, over the counter or prescription. All medications must be given to the teacher
- Toys, toys from home can be lost or broken. They can be very distracting especially when we are packing backpacks at the end of the day.

2-Day and PreK Hoe Down

On Thursday October 30th and Friday, October 31st, we will be having our fall “Hoe Down.” The children and teachers can wear jeans, overalls, flannel shirts, farm animal costumes or anything in keeping with the harvest or fall theme.

(This is not a Halloween party.)

Transition Class

We will be learning about night on the farm and will have a pajama party on Thursday October 30th. So bring your favorite stuffed animal and cozy pajamas and get ready to enjoy a pajama party at school!

Classroom Volunteers

Throughout the year we will be having parent volunteers in the classroom. Room parents will email sign ups for special events during the year. If you would like to help out at another time please contact the teachers.

Keeping In Touch!

The teachers will be making brief calls to each parent over the next few weeks. The purpose of the call is to touch base and let you know how your child is making the transition to his/her new environment. This is an opportunity for you to share information about this adjustment as well. As always, please feel free to speak to the teachers at any time with questions or concerns you may have. We are looking forward to talking with you.

Music with Mara and Motoko

October 22nd and October 23rd

Mara and Motoko are sure to delight young audiences with beloved children's music, original songs and popular picture books brought to life with music. Each musician brings an abundance of experience and together this duo will inspire, engage and entertain children and families.
