The Love Song

Psalms 119:1-16

- The Psalmist Is _____ A
_____ For _____
_____.

Surely it is significant that this intricate, finely crafted, single-minded love poem – the longest in the Bible – is not about marriage or children or food or drink or mountains or sunsets or rivers or oceans, but about the Bible itself. (Kevin DeYoung, Taking God At His Word)

How sweet are your words to my taste,
sweeter than honey to my mouth! (Psalm 119:103)

I obey your statutes,
for I love them greatly. (Psalm 119:167)

- The Psalmist Is _____ From _____
_____.

All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness, so that the servant of God may be thoroughly equipped for every good work. (2 Timothy 3:16-17)

What we believe and feel about the word of God are absolutely crucial, if for no other reason than that they should mirror what we believe and feel about Jesus. ... Our desire, delight, and dependence on the words of scripture do not grow inversely to our desire, delight, and dependence on Jesus Christ. The two must always rise together.

(Kevin DeYoung, Taking God at His Word)
