

Weather Events

The weather recently is like one of my favorite things—roller coasters! We have turned from extremely cold with snow and ice, to warm enough to think about short sleeves. With all the ups and downs, the twists and turns, always remember that God knows what is happening and He is there with you. So raise your hands and let out the excitement as you ride the rollercoaster of life.

Today's Middle School Lesson:

Life is Full of Challenges

The Bible teaches us to how to live, but what happens when those lessons are challenged? How do you handle circumstances beyond your control, or not let things rule your life, or stand for what is right in a society that disagrees? Come learn how to be anchored in God when you are in the midst of storms of life.

Today's High School Lesson:

The Attributes of God

How would you describe God? In our current series, we examine different attributes of God which allow us to see Him from different perspectives and build our faith as we learn many ways God has been understood through history! A new attribute each week.
