

Preparation for Deliverance

1. Make sure you're sincere. Be open and honest, not hiding any sin or holding back. This can hinder not only your deliverance but your growth in Christ Jesus.
2. Desire to be free so that you can serve The Lord with a clean heart.
3. Ask Holy Spirit to reveal any and all areas of demonic bondage or torment.
4. Look over your life (ancestry) to discover possible open doors from ancestors.
5. Determine to be free no matter what grip the demons may have (addictions, bad habits, hang ups).
6. Don't be intimidated by "what others think of you".
7. Associate deliverance with Jesus and freedom rather than demons and bondage.
8. Exercise your faith as much as possible.
9. View this a part of God's gift to you in Christ Jesus.
10. Know this may be the beginning for freedom for your family and offspring (breaking generational curses).
11. Must be willing to forgive as God has forgiven you.

8. Be wise and aware of the ways the enemy tries to creep back in by luring us to open a door for him to come back in. Do not grieve the Holy Spirit. (Ephesians 4:30)

- A few ways he tries to creep back in: Gossip, lying, negative speaking, worldly movies/music. Stay out of the grave!
- Ephesians 4:30 And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption.

9. Speak affirmations/declarations over your life (John 6:63, Proverbs 23:7)

- Speak life not death over yourself, family and sphere of influence.
- John 6:63 It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh profits nothing. The words that I speak to you are spirit, and they are life.

- Fasting is part of the supernatural diet of the believer.
- Ezra 8:23 So we fasted and entreated our God for this, and He answered our prayer.

12. The enemy will use past relationships to try to keep you in compromise or to draw you back into living in sin. (Galatians 5:1)

- Avoid spending significant time with any person who has actions, attitudes, behaviors and conversations that will contribute to you living in compromise. (2 Corinthians 6:14)
- Break or sever relationships that do not help you to grow your relationship with God and to draw closer to God. (2 Corinthians 6:16)
