THE WORD OF GOD

OPENING HYMN

HYMNAL 370

I bind unto myself today [St. Patrick's Breastplate]

Stanzas 1, 2, 6, 7

Please stand.

Celebrant: Bless the Lord who forgives all our sins.

People: God's mercy endures for ever.

Since we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us with confidence draw near to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need. Hebrews 4:14,16

Deacon: Let us confess our sin against God and our neighbor.

Deacon and People:

Most merciful God,
we confess that we have sinned against you
in thought, word, and deed,
by what we have done,
and by what we have left undone.
We have not loved you with our whole heart;
we have not loved our neighbors as ourselves.
We are truly sorry and we humbly repent.
For the sake of your Son Jesus Christ, have mercy on us and forgive us;
that we may delight in your will,
and walk in your ways,
to the glory of your Name.
Amen.

Celebrant:

Almighty God have mercy on you, forgive you all your sins through our Lord Jesus Christ, strengthen you in all goodness, and by the power of the Holy Spirit keep you in eternal life.
Amen.

KYRIE

HYMNAL S-86

THE COLLECT FOR THE DAY

Almighty God, you alone can bring into order the unruly wills and affections of sinners: Grant your people grace to love what you command and desire what you promise; that, among the swift and varied changes of the world, our hearts may surely there be fixed where true joys are to be found; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

THE COLLECT FOR THE CARE OF CHILDREN

Almighty God, heavenly Father, you have blessed us with the joy and care of children: Give us calm strength and patient wisdom as we bring them up, that we may teach them to love whatever is just and true and good, following the example of our Savior Jesus Christ. Amen.

WAYFARERS CHILDREN'S CHAPEL

Children pre-k (4 years old) to grade 5 are now invited to follow the children's cross to the Children's Chapel for a time of worship.

Children will return to their families after the exchange of the peace.

Parents or caregivers are welcome to join their children in the procession, but not required.

Please be seated for the Readings

A READING FROM THE BOOK OF JEREMIAH 31:31-34

“The days are surely coming,” says the Lord, “when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah. It will not be like the covenant that I made with their ancestors when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt—a covenant that they broke, though I was their husband,” says the Lord. “But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days,” says the Lord: “I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. No longer shall they teach one another, or say to each other, ‘Know the Lord,’ for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest,” says the Lord; “for I will forgive their iniquity, and remember their sin no more.”

The Word of the Lord.

People: Thanks be to God.

PSALM 51:1-13

Sung by the Choir

- 1 Have mercy on me, O God, according to your loving-kindness; *
in your great compassion blot out my offenses.
- 2 Wash me through and through from my wickedness *
and cleanse me from my sin.
- 3 For I know my transgressions, *
and my sin is ever before me.
- 4 Against you only have I sinned *
and done what is evil in your sight.
- 5 And so you are justified when you speak * and upright in your judgment.
- 6 Indeed, I have been wicked from my birth, *
a sinner from my mother's womb.
- 7 For behold, you look for truth deep within me, *
and will make me understand wisdom secretly.
- 8 Purge me from my sin, and I shall be pure; *
wash me, and I shall be clean indeed.
- 9 Make me hear of joy and gladness, *
that the body you have broken may rejoice.
- 10 Hide your face from my sins *
and blot out all my iniquities.
- 11 Create in me a clean heart, O God, *
and renew a right spirit within me.
- 12 Cast me not away from your presence * and take not your holy Spirit from me.
- 13 Give me the joy of your saving help again *
and sustain me with your bountiful Spirit.

A READING FROM THE LETTER TO THE HEBREWS 5:5-10

Christ did not glorify himself in becoming a high priest, but was appointed by the one who said to him, “You are my Son, today I have begotten you”; as he says also in another place, “You are a priest forever, according to the order of Melchizedek.” In the days of his flesh, Jesus offered up prayers and supplications, with loud cries and tears, to the one who was able to save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverent submission. Although he was a Son, he learned obedience through what he suffered; and having been made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him, having been designated by God a high priest according to the order of Melchizedek.

The Word of the Lord.

People: Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL HYMN

HYMNAL 443

From God, Christ's deity came forth Stanzas 1-3 before, 4-5 after

THE HOLY GOSPEL

JOHN 12:20-33

The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according to John.

People: Glory to you, Lord Christ.

Now among those who went up to worship at the festival were some Greeks. They came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and said to him, “Sir, we wish to see Jesus.” Philip went and told Andrew; then Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus. Jesus answered them, “The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. Very truly, I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains just a single grain; but if it dies, it bears much fruit. Those who love their life lose it, and those who hate their life in this world will keep it for eternal life. Whoever serves me must follow me, and where I am, there will my servant be also. Whoever serves me, the Father will honor. Now my soul is troubled. And what should I say—‘Father, save me from this hour’? No, it is for this reason that I have come to this hour. Father, glorify your name.” Then a voice came from heaven, “I have glorified it, and I will glorify it again.” The crowd standing there heard it and said that it was thunder. Others said, “An angel has spoken to him.” Jesus answered, “This voice has come for your sake, not for mine. Now is the judgment of this world; now the ruler of this world will be driven out. And I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all people to myself.” He said this to indicate the kind of death he was to die.

THE OFFERTORY ANTHEM

O salutaris hostia

Edward Elgar

*O salutaris hostia
quae caeli pandis ostium,
bella premunt hostilia:
da robur, fer auxilium*

O saving Victim! opening wide
The gate of heaven to man below,
Our foes press hard on every side,
Thine aid supply, thy strength bestow.

*Uni trinoque Domino sit sempiterna gloria,
qui vitam sine termino
nobis donet in patria.*

All praise and thanks to thee ascend for evermore, blest One in Three;
O grant us life that shall not end
In our true native land with thee.

Celebrant: All things come of thee, O Lord.

People: And of thine own have we given thee.

THE GREAT THANKSGIVING

EUCCHARISTIC PRAYER C [spoken]

BCP 369

Celebrant: The Lord be with you.

People: And also with you.

Celebrant: Lift up your hearts.

People: We lift them to the Lord.

Celebrant: Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

People: It is right to give our thanks and praise.

God of all power, Ruler of the Universe, you are worthy of glory and praise.

Glorify you for ever and ever.

At your command all things came to be: the vast expanse of interstellar space, galaxies, suns, the planets in their courses, and this fragile earth, our island home.

By your will they were created and have their being.

From the primal elements you brought forth the human race, and blessed us with memory, reason, and skill. You made us the rulers of creation. But we turned against you, and betrayed your trust; and we turned against one another.

Have mercy, Lord, for we are sinners in your sight.

Again and again, you called us to return. Through prophets and sages you revealed your righteous Law. And in the fullness of time you sent your only Son, born of a woman, to fulfill your Law, to open for us the way of freedom and peace.

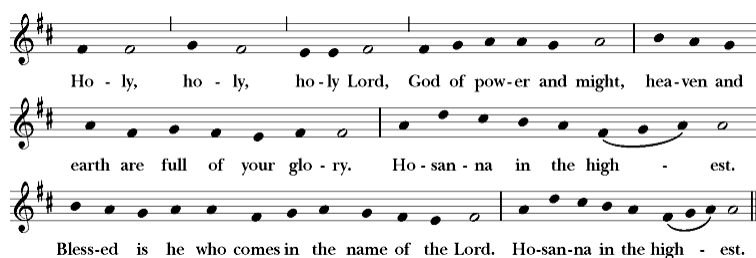

By his blood, he reconciled us.

By his wounds, we are healed.

And therefore we praise you, joining with the heavenly chorus, with prophets, apostles, and martyrs, and with all those in every generation who have looked to you in hope, to proclaim with them your glory, in their unending hymn:

SANCTUS

HYMNAL S-124

Following the Sanctus, please remain standing or kneel as you are able.

And so, Father, we who have been redeemed by him, and made a new people by water and the Spirit, now bring before you these gifts. Sanctify them by your Holy Spirit to be the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ our Lord.

On the night he was betrayed he took bread, said the blessing, broke the bread, and gave it to his friends, and said, "Take, eat: This is my Body, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me."

After supper, he took the cup of wine, gave thanks, and said, "Drink this, all of you: This is my Blood of the new Covenant, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink it, do this for the remembrance of me."

Remembering now his work of redemption, and offering to you this sacrifice of thanksgiving,

We celebrate his death and resurrection,
as we await the day of his coming.

Lord God of our Fathers; God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ: Open our eyes to see your hand at work in the world about us. Deliver us from the presumption of coming to this Table for solace only, and not for strength; for pardon only, and not for renewal. Let the grace of this Holy Communion make us one body, one spirit in Christ, that we may worthily serve the world in his name.

Risen Lord, be known to us in the breaking of the Bread.

Accept these prayers and praises, Father, through Jesus Christ our great High Priest, to whom, with you and the Holy Spirit, your Church gives honor, glory, and worship, from generation to generation. AMEN.

And now as our Savior Christ has taught us, we are bold to say,

HYMNAL S-161

Please be seated while the congregation receives communion.

THE COMMUNION OF THE PEOPLE

All who hunger for God are invited to come forward to receive the sacrament. Follow the ushers' instructions when and where to go. Place one hand over the other to receive the bread. Wine is available via intinction into a chalice with a small amount of wine, so that fingers cannot come into contact with the wine. If you prefer, you may come forward instead for a blessing by crossing your arms over your chest. Please let the clergy know if you need a gluten-free host.

Don't Forget to Take the (Tuition) Tax Credit!

Did you know that under Arizona law, both individuals and corporations get a dollar-for-dollar credit on their taxes for contributions made to non-profit school tuition organizations or STOs? For individual contributions, All Saints' partners with the Arizona Episcopal Schools Foundation (AESF). Gifts made to AESF directly support our Indexed Tuition Program, making a substantial impact on our entire school community.

So what does this mean? How can you participate in the Tuition Tax Credit Program? We are here to help! Please feel free to contact Wendy Granier at wgranier@allsaints.org.

The deadline to designate your 2023 tax dollars is April 15, 2024.

Hello to the All Saints' Community

Even though some of you may already know me, I'd like to introduce myself. I'm The Very Rev. Troy Mendez, and I served in Arizona for the past ten years as dean of Trinity Cathedral in downtown Phoenix. On February 1, I formally concluded my ministry at Trinity and began serving the greater church as the Executive Director of the Episcopal Evangelism Society (EES), an organization that has supported the mission and ministry of the Episcopal Church since 1862. I also serve on the boards of Virginia Theological Seminary and the General Seminary of the Episcopal Church. Theological education and formation for all people in the church is vital to equip all of us to confront an ever-changing world that hungers for God's abundant love.

In my new ministry, I'll be helping to shape the leadership of the Episcopal Church for this generation and many future generations. Our organization offers grants to students, faculty, and staff of seminaries and their related communities for innovative and entrepreneurial evangelism for the 21st century. So far, the work has been incredibly inspirational, and the future of the Episcopal Church's leadership looks very bright. Check out some of the amazing work of our grantees by viewing EES's website here: www.ees1862.org

While the work of EES is national in scope, my office will be housed here at All Saints'. Your rector, clergy, and staff have welcomed me with open arms to carry on this ministry here in Phoenix for the good of the entire church. I will often be out traveling to seminaries, meeting with students and professors, but I will also be in residence at times in your parish office building. I hope that my prayers for you and for all who do ministry in this beloved community will continue to thrive as holy saints of God for a world that needs you now more than it ever has before.

From time to time, you may see me in Sunday and weekday worship services, and I look forward to being a support and a resource to this community as All Saints and the Episcopal Church look with anticipation to loving God and our neighbors in ways in which we have still yet to fully imagine or realize.

Lent is a holy time, a time of reconnecting with God and with one another. It is my hope that our journey with Jesus over this season will continue to bring forth that good work that all of you are doing together to advance the Kingdom of God, both now and for many years to come.

Ministry Spotlight: Prison Ministry

By Lora Villasenor

I have to make a confession, I have never thought of myself as the ministry type. Before the prison ministry, I had never been involved in extracurricular church activities. I only knew a few people in the congregation and I had no inclination to do more than attend service on Sunday (sporadically). What I have discovered is there is no ministry type. We are all called, as Christians, to serve others. I have come to believe I was called to this ministry, and perhaps that makes perfect sense because my father spent time in prison when I was a child.

I still remember the long drive to Florence to visit my Dad, the Circle K on the corner of the road that led to the prison where my Mom would buy us a snack, the officers waving a wand over my 8-year-old body to check for weapons, and the vending machine in the prison visiting room. I also recall how lost I felt when I watched my father emerge from behind the heavy metal door in his prison uniform, and the helplessness that filled me when the metal door clanged shut behind him because our visit was over. Friends would ask me, "Where is your father?" That question filled me with shame that didn't belong to me because I couldn't answer. I know that those who are incarcerated and those who wait for them to come home are my family, and I have found that they are All Saints' family too.

A few weeks ago during his sermon Father Perry asked everyone who had participated in the Prison Ministry to stand and be recognized and virtually the entire congregation stood up together. In that moment, I realized something, that as we seek to bless these women and their families, we too are blessed.

Every time someone acts in kindness for the incarcerated and their families I imagine a little ripple of love is sent into the universe. If that is true, I know that our congregation is making waves. It is beautiful to watch people find ways to support this ministry. Whether they are collecting yarn from their friends and neighbors so the women at Perryville have supplies to crochet beanies for the homeless, or selecting the perfect Christmas gift for an Angel Tree child, our hearts are committed because we know what we contribute to others matters.

Nine years ago, our prison ministry began as seven women sat together in my home, writing Mother's Day cards. We didn't have any expectations about what would happen next, but we wanted the women to know that they had not been forgotten. That first month, we wrote cards until our hands were cramped, and we resolved to meet every month to write birthday cards and welcome anyone who wanted to join us. By the time we started writing Christmas cards (in August), we had a crowd of people around the conference table in St. Barbara writing on cards donated by our congregation and mailing them with donated stamps. When we were given the opportunity to serve, we stepped up with grace, and we have written thousands of Christmas, Mother's Day, and birthday cards to the women at Perryville. The enthusiasm to serve wasn't isolated to writing cards, though; every single time our community is given a chance to serve, we have done it with gusto.

When we learned that the women at Perryville were released from prison without proper shoes, we donated hundreds of pairs of shoes. When we discovered how much unmet need there was in our Angel Tree families, we rallied to fill back-to-school backpacks and provide gift cards to caregivers at Christmas time so they could buy a Christmas tree or provide their families with a proper Christmas meal. And, when we discovered that women were released from prison and dropped off at a bus stop to navigate their first day of freedom alone, we stepped in and offered them a ride.

Our extended parish family now includes grandparents raising their grandchildren while the mothers serve their time. Children, traumatized by all of it, struggle to make sense of what never will make sense to them. And the artists whose artwork is on exhibit in St. Barbara. Every one of them could teach a master class in resilience and we've shown up to learn.

The prison ministry has grown because of the love and generosity of our community and now we have been called to do more. Our rector has determined to set his sights and ours on making All Saints' the prison ministry hub for the Episcopal Diocese of Arizona and we have a congregation that can make that happen. I cannot wait to see what is in store for us! Let's go Team All Saints'!
