Better Together: Youth Ministry Conversations

Whether you're a seasoned youth leader or exploring a call to invest in teenagers, this NYI Workshop is for you. Join us for a collaborative and encouraging session for youth leaders and volunteers from across our District. Together, we'll reflect on the past year, sharing both challenges and celebrations in our local ministries. We'll exchange youth ministry "best practices," learn from one another's experiences, and discover practical ideas you can use in your own context. You'll also receive helpful resources to equip your church to disciple teenagers more effectively. Come ready to share, learn, and be encouraged as we partner together to help our churches win with students.

Kenzie Lang, District NYI President, Layperson, School teacher

Session A:

One Church, All Ages: Making Space for Youth to Belong and Lead

This session explores practical ways to move youth from the margins into meaningful participation at its center. Move from "they're the church of tomorrow" to integrating youth into leadership and community now. We'll talk simple strategies, real-life examples, ideas for churches of any size.

Session B:

When the Event Ends: Discipling Students in the Everyday

This session explores how to help students move from mountaintop moments to lasting faith. Learn practical ways to follow up, disciple intentionally, and turn short-term impact into long-term transformation.

Stephanie Austin, NextGen Pastor, District Licensed Minister, Preschool Behavioural Consultant
Multiplex, Room 201

Messy on Purpose: From Why to How of Starting Messy Church Where You Are

Curious about starting a Messy Church? This session begins with the why and walks through the who, when, what, and where of building this flexible and engaging outreach ministry. Discover practical ideas for churches of any size and budget, learn how to inspire lay people to join in caring for families in your community, and leave with simple tools to move from planning to a fun, active, and meaningful experience for everyone involved.
